Ike Sends His Regards as First Term of 84th Congress Ends

CARRYING IKE'S PROGRAM TO THE WIRE. Following their last conference with President Eisenhower before adjournment of Congress, Republican leaders of the Senate and House, Senator William F. Knowland (left) and Rep. Joseph Martin, tell a news conference that the President assured them he had made "no deal, no trade" with the Chinese Reds for release of 11 American airmen. His statement was in answer to an accusation by Senator Joseph McCarthy. The President also made a last-minute plea for a public housing bill satisfactory to him, but Congress overrode his objections.

Lawmakers Miss Target By Two Days

Several Major, Host of Lesser Bills Acted on In Year's Last Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bitter wrangles of the last few days turned to mutual compliments and rollicking good humor as Congress ended its seven-month session early today.

President Eisenhower relayed his regards and apparently an over-all satisfaction to the Democratic-controlled Congress which had strongly supported him in foreign policy matters and given him much he asked in the domestic field.

Major Bills Rushed

A half-dozen major bills and scores of lesser ones had been rushed to his desk in the final long day and night of this first session of the 84th Congress.

These included bills on housing, polio vaccine, the local transit strike, defense production, loans to small business and a money bill to finance Congress itself.

Eisenhower had expressed displeasure with some features of the housing bill, but some Republican leaders discounted the talk that he might summon a special session to deal with the issue again.

Barring a special session, Congress will return next Jan. 3.

Adjournment came two working days after the target date which Democratic leaders had fixed.

That was fairly remarkable. Congress has frequently missed by as much as two weeks in recent years.

House Quits at 10:36 p.m.

The House quit at 10.36 p.m. (EST) last night The Senate followed at 11 05 p.m.

Many Senate and House members already had left the capital for home or on trips planned in the expectation Congress would quit Saturday as originally planned.

Few others were expected to stay long in Washington's heat—it reached a steamy 98 yesterday—although a few committee hearings were planned for the next few days.

Left in midair were controversial proposals for construction of atomic merchant vessels, highway building, school construction, exemption of natural gas producers

Council Votes Against Plan, Fearing Loss

Concern To Redeem Its Tokens; Will Remove Vehicles to Springfield

A proposal of the Springfield City Lines, Inc., to sell or lease all or part of its Marion City Lines buses to the city was turned down for a second time by Marion City Council at a meeting held Tuesday night at City Hall.

This action came at the close of a two-hour meeting attended by eight of the nine members of council, bus company officials and other city officials.

Will Redeem Tokens

Immediately following the action, Chester E. Baker, president of Springfield City Lines, said that the company would start today to move its buses and equipment back to Springfield.

He also announced that the company will redeem bus tokens which former patrons still have in their possession.

Francis Pogue, local manager for the Marion City Lines, said that through the rest of this week there will be someone at the company garage at 539 N. State St. to refund the purchase price of the tokens.

Next week the tokens may be taken to the Chamber of Commerce office on S. Main St. where refunds will be handled, Pogue said.

Those still having tokens in their possession after next week may mail them to Springfield City Lines, Inc. at 220 S. Center St. in Springfield, Pogue said.

Explains Reason for Quitting

In the discussion on the company offer, Councilman-at-large Robert G. Haldeman, chairman of the utilities committee, opened the meeting and asked Baker for a brief review of the company's reasons for quitting and its offer to the city.

Baker said the company was quitting here because it simply did not have enough bus riders to make the operation pay. The offer to the city was to sell it any or all the 11 buses used here at $1,000 each for a maximum purchase price of $11,000 or to lease any or all of them for $100 a month for each bus or a maximum lease price of $1,100 a month.

He added that the company felt the city, through various tax savings, could operate the buses at less cost than the company and should be able to operate them at a small profit.

The Springfield firm would provide supervision or administrative assistance to the city on a cost basis until such time as the assistance was no longer needed, Baker said.

Reds Confess 2 Planes Shot Down Airliner

Punishment Promised Attackers of Israeli Transport Last Week

LONDON, (AP)—Communist Bulgaria admitted today that two of her fighter planes shot down an Israeli airliner last Wednesday.

It said it would "discover and punish those responsible for the catastrophe."

All 58 persons aboard the airliner, including 12 Americans, were killed. The plane, which had gotten off course, crashed just north of the Bulgarian-Greek border.

Reds Change Version

Previously the Bulgarians had said Red antiaircraft guns downed the airliner and promised partial payment for the million-dollar plane. But the Israeli Foreign Ministry said Monday that Israeli investigators who inspected the wreckage saw "numerous bullet holes" and gained "the definite impression" that they came from machine-gun fire.

The Bulgarian Telegraph Agency made the government's announcement today. It was broadcast by Sofia radio.

The announcement also conceded that the "organs of the antiaircraft defense" which shot down the American-built Constellation were "too hasty."

"They did not take all the necessary measures to force the plane to land," the broadcast said.

Promise Punishment

In addition to promising punishment for those responsible, the statement said the Bulgarian government "will adopt all measures to prevent a repetition of such a disaster in our land."

But the statement cited current international tension and what it claimed were repeated previous violations of its air frontier to make illegal "drops" into its territory. In this tense atmosphere, the broadcast said, the government had to protect the country's security.

The statement said also that the Bulgarian government in its earlier note to the Israeli govern-

Drought Adds to Woes

Heat Here To Stay, May Hit 100 Today

Temperatures headed into the 90-100 degree range again today in mid-summer's persistent and widespread heat wave.

And to add to the discomfort, a long-range forecast indicates there will be no general break in the steaming, scorching weather for several days.

30-Day Outlook: Hot

In addition, a 30-day outlook by the Weather Bureau in Washington brought more unpleasant news: warmer than usual weather in August in most of the northern two-thirds of the nation.

The mercury climbed to 94 in Marion Tuesday while the overnight low was 69. By 7:30 this morning, the temperature had started climbing and was up to 76.

At noon today, the temperature had reached 92, according to local weather officials.

Mostly sunny today and Thursday and fair skies tonight is the forecast.

45 Die From Heat

The steady heat of nearly two weeks in the mid-continent with only light rain has threatened some crops. Farmers in central New York counties have asked Gov. Averell Harriman to declare a drought area so they could get federal aid Crop damage was expected to run into the millions of dollars.

At least 45 persons have died from the 90-plus heat.

The 100-degree line Tuesday extended from California to New York.

According to the Washington Weather Bureau's 30-day forecast, precipitation is to exceed normal along the Gulf Coast and over the southeastern quarters of the nation, as well as in the western intermountain region and Pacific Northwest.

Subnormal amounts are anticipated over the central and northern plains, the Great Lakes region and the Northeast.

Geneva Talks Still Recessed

U.S., Chinese Envoys Consult Governments

GENEVA (AP)—The talks between the United States and Red China were in recess today while representatives of the two sides consulted their governments.

The next meeting between U.S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Chinese Ambassador Wang Pingnan will be held Thursday morning.

The two ambassadors exchanged views Tuesday on their No. 1 problem—the repatriation of some 40 American civilians detained by the Peiping regime and an indefinite number of Chinese students who the Chinese Communists claim the United States will not allow to return to the China mainland.

Both sides clamped a secrecy lid on the talks, but it appeared apparent that proposals were submitted by one or both parties which had to be referred to higher authority.

Neither the United States nor the Red Chinese delegation would comment on reports that the release of the 40 American civilians was imminent.

Scientist Predicts Landing on Moon By End of Century

COPENHAGEN (AP) — American scientist Frederick C. Durant predicted today that man will land on the moon by the end of the present century.

Durant, of Lexington, Mass., made the statement at the official opening of the sixth international Astronautical Congress here.

Referring to the recent White House announcement that America will launch an unmanned earth satellite in 1957-58, Durant, president of the International Astronautical Federation, said:

The next step will be an unmanned earth satellite which will not return to earth. This will be followed by trips around the moon. I personally believe all these achievements including landings on the moon will be accomplished by the end of this century."

Delegates from 18 nations heard Durant's short address. Two Soviet scientists were here as observers.

"The frontiers of exploration have virtually disappeared on earth," Durant said "The new frontiers are out in another dimension."

House Frolics In Final Hours Of 1955 Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional dignity and lawmaking tensions dissolved into hijinks, harmony and rollicking high spirits in the closing hours of the 1955 House session last night.

Old-timers said they had seldom if ever seen such a boisterous outburst of monkeyshines in the traditionally sedate House chamber.

Over in the Senate things were quieter. Up almost to the last minute Sen. Morse (D-Ore) was reading a long speech on federal aid to education, while one by one his colleagues slipped away.

In the House the joint was jumping. Members had cleared their calendar, and about 100 of them hung around waiting on the Senate.

Wenzell's Case Like Talbott's, Kefauver Says

Senators Continuing Dixon-Yates Probe Cite Consultant's Role

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said today there is a parallel between what he termed the Dixon-Yates and Talbott-Mulligan cases but they produced different types of action by President Eisenhower.

As the Senate Antimonopoly subcommittee resumed its investigation of the Dixon-Yates power contract, Kefauver said Eisenhower had accepted the resignation of Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbott because of his business connections with Paul B. Mulligan & Co., management-engineering firm.

But he said Eisenhower had said he saw nothing wrong in the activities of Adolphe Wenzell, a former Budget Bureau consultant who was also a vice president of the First Boston Corp. which became the Dixon-Yates financial agent.

"I want to say," Kefauver remarked, "that I can't see a bit of difference, except perhaps here a stronger conflict of interest has been presented."

He said he just doesn't believe Eisenhower "could have the full facts brought out here."

Train Arrives Without Fliers Freed by Reds

HONG KONG (AP)—The daily train from Communist Canton to the Hong Kong border arrived today without the 11 U.S. airmen being freed by Communist China. Apparently they will arrive Thursday as the Reds announced previously.

The next Canton train was due at 1:30 Thursday afternoon Hong Kong time, or 11:30, EST, tonight.

Two U.S. Air Force C54 transports wait to rush the men to the Philippines for a stay of two or three days. Then they will be flown to a reunion with their families at either McChord Air Force Base near Seattle or Travis Air Force Base near San Francisco.

Prisoners since their B29 Superfortress was shot down 2½ years ago on a mission over North Korea, the airmen were sentenced last November to prison terms ranging up to 10 years on a charge of spying, which the United States has denied.

13 New Guards In Training at Prison School

A class of 13 new guards has started a training program at the Marion Training School in preparation for the transfer of additional prisoners from Ohio Penitentiary in the near future.

The training program is being conducted by Capt. Homer W. Hunter, former training officer at the penitentiary in Columbus.

The guards are being instructed in duties during prison riots and minor disturbances, and are being schooled in the use of firearms, self-defense and security equipment.

The state division of correction said the transfer of prisoners to Marion will relieve overcrowded conditions at the penitentiary. No dates for the transfers were announced, but the division said they will be accomplished in groups of 25 as housing facilities for them are completed.

Bender Claims Rules Needed In Government

New Law Necessary For Businessmen in Federal Posts, He Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) said today the resignation of Secretary of the Air Force Talbott points up the need for new ground rules for businessmen in government.

What is needed, Bender told a reporter, is a clearer law stating what a business executive "can and cannot do" with his financial interests while in a government post.

No one, said Bender, would "wish to see a moron or peanut politician placed in a position which requires someone who has perspective, ability and training in a particular business."

Thus, he said, businessmen should be told exactly what stocks they should dispose of and what business connections they must get rid of before taking a job such as Talbott's.

Talbott resigned following a controversy over his private earnings as a partner in Paul B. Mulligan & Co., a New York firm of management consultants.

As a member of the subcommittee investigating Talbott, Bender

Reds Freeing 'Dead' Mate Poses Problem for Wife

CISCO GROVE, Calif. (AP) — A thin 20-year-old girl today faced the biggest decision of her life: whether to return to the airman husband she thought was dead or stay with the man she married later and loves.

"I knew it was coming, but I didn't know when," said Mrs. Alford Fine, who at 17 wed A.2.C. Daniel Schmidt, of Cour D'Alene, Idaho, and bore his son after he left for overseas.

Wed to Logger

Now she is the wife of a husky 21-year-old logging camp tractor operator. They live in a small trailer a few miles from this tiny highway town in the High Sierra.

Only Monday she learned that Schmidt is one of 11 American airmen due for momentary release by the Chinese Communists after 2½ years of imprisonment on spy charges. He went overseas 37 months ago.

She's flying to meet Schmidt when he arrives in this country With her will go her 2½-year-old son Danny, a dark-eyed youngster who has never seen his father.

Made Mistake

"I honestly don't know what I'm going to do," she told a reporter. "Naturally, I'm tickled he is returning. Whatever I decide, the decision will be my own."

She said she married Fine two months before learning from the Air Force that her husband was alive and well as a war prisoner.

"I made a mistake," she said, "but isn't everyone entitled to one mistake?"

Mrs. Fine said she had never been officially told that Schmidt

Highways, Schools Among Key Proposals

Unsettled Issues Promise Lively Battles in January

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The things Congress left undone, a big part of the story of this year's session, promise lively squabbles in 1956.

Fourteen important measures President Eisenhower asked for did not reach his desk. Several other major bills also were left hanging.

All pending legislation will be alive when Congress returns Jan. 3.

Perhaps the most important Eisenhower bills stranded were those to start a multibillion-dollar expansion of the nation's highway building program and to aid in local school construction.

House Fails To Act

The Senate passed a road bill which omitted the bond-financing feature supported by the President. The House became snarled over how to pay for the new highways and passed no bill.

Neither branch passed a school construction bill, although the House Education Committee approved one in the closing days of the session. In Senate committee, the measure remained snarled in a dispute over an antisegregation provision.

Administration bills which passed only one branch include:

Upper Colorado River authorization — passed Senate, approved by House committee.

No Action Taken

Pay increase for Cabinet officers and several hundred other top government executives—Passed House, died in the Senate.

Military survivors benefits — Passed House.

These were measures asked by the President which neither body passed:

Demonstrators Attacked

BOMBAY, India (AP) — Portugese sources reported that police fired today on unarmed Indians trying to march into Portugese Goa, killing one marcher and wounding three others.

Goa is the largest of Portugal's three pockets of territory on the west Indian coast. Portugal has refused to negotiate Prime Minister Nehru's demands that the areas — last foreign foothold in India — be merged with India.

San Antonio Outbreak Second in Week

58 Convicts Riot in Texas Jail; 1 Killed, 4 Injured

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., (AP) — Ten officers shot one prisoner to death and injured four others Tuesday night in quelling a 58-man jail riot.

The bloody outbreak was the Bexar County Jail's second abortive riot in a week. The first, on July 26, took three hours to break up. Last night's was stopped in 30 minutes.

Sheriff Owen Kilday, a brother of Rep. Paul Kilday (D-Tex), wept as he told of firing the fatal bullet into Rudolfo Escobedo, 27, as the riot flared to a climax about 9 p.m.

Fired in Self Defense

"I saw him fall," Kilday sobbed.

He said he fired in self-defense. Escobedo, he said, was brandishing a large tray and refused to put it down as the sheriff ordered. Kilday said when Escobedo started to throw the tray at him, "I shot him."

Kilday left a hospital bed to come to the jail when jailers warned him that a riot threatened. He was wounded a few hours before last week's disturbance when a .25-caliber pistol discharged as he alighted from an automobile. He was not hurt Tuesday night.

None Believed Serious

He said paraffin bullets were used at first Tuesday night. He ordered regular ammunition only after the dummy slugs failed to quell the rioters. About 40 shots were fired.

Galvino Beltran, 18, was shot in both legs and Rudolfo Reyes, 33, was shot in the right leg. Two other prisoners were struck by flying objects. None was believed in serious condition.

Jailer Bob Beckman said the riot began when vengeful prison-

Magazine Calls For Standard Measuring Unit

Confusion in Dealing With Hundredweight, Bushel Cited in Article

CHICAGO — The old bushel basket is causing a peck of trouble on live stock farms, asserts National Live Stock Producer.

The magazine recommends abolishing the bushel as a system of measurement so that farmers can do all their trading and figuring on a straight hundred weight basis.

Here's why:

The average farmer buys seed in bushels. Adds fertilizer in 100-pound units. Harvests in bushels. Weighs bushels at the grain elevator where they are converted into 100 pounds.

Grain not sold is fed to live stock by the bushel on formulas prepared by land grant colleges and feed manufacturers on a hundredweight basis. Then animals are sold on a hundredweight basis.

Time Consuming

It's all confusing and time consuming — converting bushels into hundredweight and back again. A single common denominator of measurement such as the hundredweight would eliminate much of the confusion in grain transaction, figuring of production costs and feeding values.

What is a bushel anyway? Standard bushel weights for grain are: Wheat 60 pounds; oats 32 pounds; soybeans 60 pounds and corn 56 pounds.

In actual tests, however, a bushel of wheat varies from 57 to 63 pounds per bushel. Oats from 30 to 38 pounds and corn from 56 to 59 pounds.

Number One soybeans never get up to their 60 pounds standard per bushel — they vary from 54 to 58 pounds.

Realistic Comparison

On a bushel basis, the farmer compares the feeding value of 70 cents a bushel oats with $1.30 a bushel corn. On a hundred weight basis, it would be $2.19 oats and $2.32 corn — a much more realistic comparison with other feed prices.

The present system requires the use of conversion table which can b the cause of error and confusion. In addition, the farmer has to pay for all the figuring and converting done by the grain exchanges, the feed mills and the government.

Converting to a straight hundredweight system of measurement for farm commodities would save the unnecessary costs of marketing which are borne by producers and consumers alike.

Local Conservation Air Tour Scheduled Saturday

Flights To Pass Marion Farms, City; Other Activities Slated

All arrangements have been completed for the Marion County Conservation Air Tour to be held Saturday all day from the Marion County Airport.

The tour will cover about 25 miles of Marion County and planes will make a large circle around the city. At least five planes will be on hand for the day to assure a steady flow of traffic in and out of the airfield.

Farming conservation practices visible from the air will be the main attraction of the tour. However, planes will fly close enough to the city so that most of the town will be visible.

Planes will start flying at 8 a.m. and flights will continue until 8 p.m. or until it becomes too dark to fly. Airport officials are not too concerned with the possibility of rain and point out that rainstorms at this time of year last only several minutes and soon stop.

FOR THE PERSON not interested in flying over the county farms, there will be other special attractions. The 4-H tractor operators' contest will be held during the day in a field next to the airport hangars. Four winners will be chosen from this contest to appear at the Marion County Fair.

The winners will receive free plane rides as their reward.

Besides the tractor contest, there will also be demonstrations of crop spraying and dusting from airplanes. Conservation movies will be shown throughout the day in the hangars and briefing talks by local conservationists will give some of the background of the spots to be seen in the tour.

Pictures and colored slides will be on display of the farms to be passed over.

A DISPLAY OF farm machinery will also be set up near the hangars at the airport by members of the Marion County Implement Dealers as another added attraction.

Besides the farmland and the city, passengers on the trip will also see the Marion Training School with the new prison buildings now under construction.

The county airport, also known as Baker Airfield, is located on State Route 98, about one mile north of Route 30-S. Ample parking space is available and refreshments and sandwiches may be purchased at the main hangar.

LOCAL conservationists will outline the route of the trip for passengers and point out the spots of main interest. Pilots will be thoroughly instructed as to the route and will point out the places of interest during the flight.

Price for the flight will be $3.00 per person. There will be no charge for watching the tractor contest, the spraying and dusting demonstrations or the conservation movies.

The tour is sponsored by the Marion County Soil Conservation District in cooperation with the Marion County Extension Service, the Marion County Green Acres Committee, the Marion County Implement Dealers, the airport, the Marion County Bankers Association, The Marion Star and radio station WMRN.

Farms which are on the route of the trip are those owned by Robert Key, Alfred G. Laucher, Oscar J. Kauffuekd, John E. Ruth, Victor H. Kreis, Harry Laucher, C. W. Taylor, Carl Rider, Robert Vance, H. W. Jenner, and DeKalb Agricultural Association. The Green Camp School farm will also be passed, as will the pumping plant of the Marion Water Co., the Marion General Hospital, the Marion Municipal Airport, WMRN and the Training School area.

From the take-off point at the airport, the flight will first head southeast, then turn northwest, passing close to the city and going near the Espyville area. It will then turn back east, passing the north side of Marion, head northeast a short distance and turn southeast again to the airport.

Some of the conservation practices to be seen on the tour will be farm ponds, grass and tile waterways, contour plowing, protected woodlands and the difference between farmland which has good practices and that which is poorly managed.

PLANES WILL FLY OVER Marion County all day Saturday as the Marion County Conservation Air Tour will be held at the Marion County Airport on Route 98, one mile north of Route 30-S. Here is one of the farm ponds which will be visible from the air. Other soil and water conservation practices as well as sights of the city will be visible from the planes. Flights will leave the airport from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Meat Produces 30 Per Cent of Farming Profit

CHICAGO — Sale of meat animals accounted for 30 cents of each dollar of farm income in 1954, points out National Live Stock Producer, live stock magazine.

Cash receipts from meat animals amounted to $9.1 billion last year exceeding the $8.8 billion received in 1953 by three per cent.

Farm production of meat animals totaled 46.8 billion pounds or five per cent above the 44.5 billion pounds produced the year before. This was the highest production on record, exceeding the previous record of 46.6 billion pounds produced in 1946.

The average price per hundred weight received by producers in 1954 was $16 for cattle, $16.50 for calves, $21.60 for hogs, $6.10 for sheep and $19.20 for lambs.

About 55 cents of every dollar of farm income was derived from the sale of meat animals, dairy and poultry products.

Cost of Fertilizer Rises Less Than Other Farm Needs

CHICAGO — Fertilizer is still in the "best buy" class on the farmer's shopping list, Michigan agronomists report.

These soils men point out that plant food has gone up less in cost than virtually any other commodity a farmer buys. Yet fertilizer is a production item that increases crop yields and profits and often returns $3 to $5 for every dollar invested.

R. L. Carolus, Michigan State College horticulturist, reports that the cost of fertilizer today is only 13 per cent above that of 25 years ago, whereas the cost of other farm supplies has increased by 125 per cent.

Since 1930, fertilizer use on American farms has increased from 5½ million tons to more than 20 million tons at present, the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee points out. As fertilizer use has risen, its crop-feeding power has steadily been increased by the manufacturers.

A number of the high analysis nitrogen - phosphate - potash fertilizers today contain twice as much plant nutrients as did the older, lower grade fertilizers 25 years ago, the committee says.

"As crop yields go up through the use of fertilizer and other good soil management practices," says the committee, "the production cost goes down per acre and per bushel. That means bigger net profits for the farmer."

WEIGHTED JEWELS

NEW YORK (INS) — Jewels are weighed in carats because in olden times they were weighed against the weight of carob seeds. These tiny seeds were used because they came so close to being of uniform weight. In modern terms, there are more than 142 carats to the ounce. For commercial purposes each carat is subdivided into 100 points.

Youth in Caledonia FFA Group Gains State Camp Honor

A Marion County FFA member made a good mark for himself last week at the state camp at Camp Muskingum in Carroll County. He was Robert A. Hill of near Caledonia, a member of the Caledonia FFA Chapter.

During his stay at camp, he was elected president of one of the 14 chapters at the camp, and then was selected as one of the three best campers present. There were 325 other boys in the camp.

The young man was graduated from Caledonia School this June. He is now engaged in full time farming.

LET'S PRACTICE SAFETY ON THE FARM EVERY WEEK
Statistics show that farms are one of the nation's most dangerous places. Careless operation of tractors and other farm machinery causes injuries to thousands of farm folks annually, even kills many.
We ask your cooperation in making our area one of the nation's safest through careful and intelligent farm safety practices. To use an already overworked phrase . . . the life you save may be your own.
Farm Visits Tell It's Time To Cull Laying Flocks
During recent visits to various farms we've seen too many culls in the laying house. They're doing no one any good . . . not even the feed man.
We'll be happy to provide a well qualified Feeding Advisor to show you how to cull. Culling isn't a hard job, but it's easy to put off.
So, let's take out the culls and sell them. That will give the old girls that are still laying a chance to make some profit.
Whether you are a Purina feeder or not, call us today to help you cull your flock. Be assured there is no obligation. It's one of our regular services.

FAIR TIME PLANS
The air is buzzin' with plans for the fair this year, and one of the busiest is young Darrell Gerfen, of Rt. 2, Prospect, Ohio. Darrell is planning to have a Shorthorn heifer that he's really proud of in the Junior Fair this year. He's also going to have 6 Yorkshire Swine entries as well as Suffolk sheep. As you all remember, Darrell picked up a Jr. Fair Grand Champion Award in '51 and '52. From the glint in his eye, I'd say he's looking that direction again. Well . . . after all, what else would expect when the Shorthorns were raised on Bulky-Las and Cow-Chow, and the Yorkshires on Sow and Pig Feed (with a 56-day gain of .75 lb. per day!) Darrell is learning young the value of using and feeding the Tested and approved Purina way! Good Luck Darrell. We'll see you at the fair.
HEALTH HINT

Leading Local Dairy Herds in July Reported

There were 921 dairy cows on production test in July in Marion County. These cows represented 45 herds and mark an increase of one per cent in cow numbers and a decrease of nearly four per cent in number of herds compared to the same month one year ago.

There were a total of 351 cows that produced 40 pounds or more of butterfat, over 38 per cent of the total number on test. This is an increase of over two per cent compared with the July, 1954 figures.

Average production of the 546 cows from 23 herds on Dairy Herd Improvement test was 1,022 pounds of milk and 35 pounds of butterfat per cow. Average of the ten high herds on D.H.I. test was 1,204 pounds of milk and 41 pounds of butterfat per cow.

The 375 cows from 22 herds in Owner-Sampler test produced an average of 881 pounds of milk and 35 pounds of butterfat.

A lactation report was also issued for the month for five Holsteins which recently completed tests. One owned by Paul Lawrence and Sons produced 14,720 pounds of milk and 638 pounds of fat.

A five-year-old owned by William Earl produced 15,510 pounds of milk and 551 pounds of fat. A cow owned by L. J. Cusick and Son had a record of 14,560 pounds of milk and 513 pounds of butterfat. Two cows owned by Gomer Johnson and Son produced 14,750 and 12,480 pounds of milk respectively and 509 and 505 pounds of fat.

Banks in State Main Source of Farmer Loans

Ohio farmers met their credit needs during 1954 chiefly by loans from their local banks, according to Francis B. Huber, President of The Fahey Banking Co. who represents the Ohio Bankers Association as Marion County Key Banker. Ohio banks remained the largest lenders to the state's farmers during the year, providing far more financial aid to our farmers than any other lending agency, he noted.

Qutoing from the 14th annual farm lending survey of the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association, Huber stated that on Jan. 1, 1955, Ohio banks had loans outstanding to farmers totaling $171,050,000 including both production and mortgage loans. This compares with a total of $44,936,000 held by the insurance companies, the second largest lender to Ohio farmers. In addition, Ohio banks held $63,085,000 in C.C.C. loans under the government's price-support program not included in the above figures.

"Despite reduced net income and continued high production expenses on farms," Huber said, "repayment of loans is rapid, and farm assets are at near-record levels, indicating that these factors have not weakened the financial soundness of agriculture. Bank loans play an important part in maintaining this strong financial position by permitting farmers to make use of the latest equipment and modern production and marketing methods, resulting in greater efficiency."

Of the total farm debt outstanding in banks in Ohio on Jan. 1, $77,078,000 was in non-real estate or production loans. This compares with $30,188,000 held by Production Credit Associations and $5,560,000 held by the Farmers Home Administration. "It can be seen from these figures that about three-fourths the production credit used by the state's farmers in 1954 came from banks," he stated. He also pointed out that a high percentage of the $93,972,000 in farm mortgages held by banks in the state at the beginning of this year were made for production and operating purposes.

Legume Crops Show Profits if Planted Early

CHICAGO—Summer seeding of legumes or legume-grass crops after grain harvest can be a profit-building practice on many Midwestern farms, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee. That's particularly true where the season is long enough to allow roots and tops time to make thick, husky growth.

Some agronomists say best results come when there is at least six weeks of frost-free growing weather following grain harvest.

The soils men stress this point, too: You have to feed the legumes to get high, profit-building yields. Legumes have a hearty appetite for phosphate and potash. So it is wise to follow college recommendations for fertilizer carrying these nutrients and to add lime, too, if needed.

Many farmers have found they can establish thrifty legume stands by adding plant food via the band seeding method and by applying additional amounts of phosphate-potash fertilizer to build the soil's overall fertility reserves.

Band seeding places practically all the legume and grass seed about one-quarter to one-half inch deep in the soil and about an inch above a band of fertilizer. In this way, the seedling roots are within quick and easy reach of nutrient supplies when they need them most.

This helps get the young plants off to a quick, vigorous start and gives them the jump on weeds. Then when the roots grow bigger and push deeper down they will find reserve stocks of nutrients from plowed-down fertilizer to feed them all season long.

Cooling Farm Buildings Pays in Higher Returns

COLUMBUS — Money invested in ventilating farm buildings may pay good dividends, according to D. M. Byg, extension agricultural engineer of the Ohio State University.

The cost of fans and electric power is returned in hot summer weather because animals and poultry eat less in hot buildings and make slower gains, Mr. Byg explains. Good ventilation is especially important in dairy barns, poultry houses and hog houses.

A ventilating system without power-driven fans can be devised by proper placing of openings and by insulation. The same system that cools a building in hot weather helps to remove moisture and foul air when animals and poultry are closely housed in cold weather.

India estimates that only 7 per cent of the nation's population has a protected water supply and even smaller numbers are served by sewage systems.

Lockjaw Needs Prompt, Proper Medicinal Care

Prompt and proper care given to animals stricken with lockjaw often gives them a fighting chance to recover, the American Foundation for Animal Health reports today.

Lockjaw, also known as tetanus, often follows a germ infection of a wound. The trouble is caused by a poison given off by a germ called Clostridium tetani while it is multiplying in the living animal. This poison is believed to be over 100 times stronger than strychnine. It affects the various motor nerves of the body to account for the stiffening and rigid paralysis which characterizes lockjaw.

A veterinarian's diagnosis is necessary because the symptoms of lockjaw may be confused with many other diseases affecting the nervous system.

Symptoms usually appear a week or two after the original infection of the wound, the Foundation says, and include the inability of the animal to open its mouth. Stiffness then spreads to the rest of the body. However, the incubation stage may be shorter, or may be as long as two or three months. On farms where tetanus is known to exist, preventive vaccination of valuable animals with tetanus toxoid is often advisable.

Changes in Fair Book

Three changes in the 1955 County Fair book were made this week by William Haley, secretary of the fair board. He said that in the dairy cattle section, a fifth class, Ayrshires, should be added. In the beef cattle division, he said Shorthorns should be added as a third group. In the swine section, he noted the book should have read: 'Spring Pigs shall have been farrowed on or after Feb. 1, 1955." The book reads: "Junior Spring Pigs shall have been farrowed on or after March 15, 1955."

Haley said printing errors were responsible for the corrections.

Tips on Cutting Costs of Dairy Farming Listed

CHICAGO — A four-pronged cost-cutting program that can help dairy farmers boost dwindling profits by getting more milk per cow per acre at a lower unit cost, was listed by the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, based on suggestions by University of Missouri dairy husbandmen.

Here are the steps the Missouri specialists suggest for helping ease the present dairy profit squeeze:

1. Cut cow feeding costs by making fullest use of high quality pasture, hay and silage.
2. Get rid of unprofitable low producing cows.
3. Use labor-saving equipment and practices as far as possible.
4. Try to cut costs of handling, processing and delivering milk.

"Cutting the cost of feed is most important, because it is the highest single cost item in producing milk," says the committee. "It is estimated that feed represents 60 per cent of the total cost of producing milk.

"When you feed cows more high quality forage and less grain, you get milk at lower cost. This can mean higher profits per cow and per acre."

The committee quotes mid-western agronomists to the effect that pasture production could be doubled or tripled on many farms by improved management methods. Such methods, they say, should include liming where needed; the use of fertilizer; well adapted, winter - hardy disease resistant legume-grass seed; and good grazing management.

"Adding plenty of plant food not only can boost pasture yields, but increase the protein content of the roughage as well," says the committee.

In an average year, about 3,000 more Americans are killed by accidents in the summer than in the spring months.

Woman Is Hurt In One of Three Auto Accidents

One person was injured in one of two traffic accidents investigated Tuesday by Marion police. State patrolmen reported one no-injury accident.

Mrs. Ethel Wilson of 197 Hughes St. suffered possible internal injuries in a collision at Park Blvd. and W. Columbia St. at 1:33 p.m. Tuesday. She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, David A. Wilson, 72, of the same address, which collided with a car driven by Floyd Decker, 53, of 415 Mound St. Mrs. Wilson was taken to Marion General Hospital in the Merle H. Hughes ambulance where her condition is reported to be "good" today.

Only other accident in the city was a collision in the 400 block on Leader St. at 12:27 p.m. Tuesday. Cars involved were driven by Paul R. Winkle, 21, of 290 Breen St. and B. G. Young of 795½ Oak Grove Ave.

Automobiles Collide

No one was injured in one accident investigated Tuesday by state highway patrolmen.

It occurred at 11:25 p.m. on Route 95 at its intersection with County Road 163 in Claridon. A northbound car on the county road driven by William H. Crilley, 26, of near Caledonia, and an eastbound car on Route 95 driven by Isaac C. Miller, 52, of near Caledonia, collided at the intersection.

Extensive damage resulted to both cars. Crilley was scheduled to appear today in Municipal Court on a charge of failing to yield the right of way.

Liberalization of Refugee Relief Act.

Atomic peace ship — The House passed an atomic merchant ship bill, but not the demonstration vessel asked by the President.

Program of loans and other aids to low-income farmers — One minor measure passed Congress, but the principal legislation was not acted on.

In addition, several major bills which largely originated among the lawmakers failed to win final passage this session, but most of them are certain to be revived early next year.

These include bills to provide new social security benefits for women over 62 and disabled workers over 50, to exempt natural gas producers from federal controls, to restore rigid high price supports on basic farm products, to cut income taxes chiefly for low-income families, and to increase quotas for domestic sugar producers.

All five of these passed the House this session, but were not acted on in the Senate, except for the income tax reduction, which was killed.

LAB EQUIPMENT FOUND

A box containing medical laboratory equipment was found Tuesday hidden in weeds near the Treaty Co. building at 1111 N. Main St. by Gene Briggs, an employe. He reported the discovery to the sheriff's office at 4:15 p.m. Tuesday. Owner of the equipment has not been determined as yet, deputies reported.

Crawford Junior Fair Judging Held

Concert by Bucyrus Band Will Be Included in Events Tonight

BUCYRUS — Crawford County's five-day fair moved into its second day here today with fair-goers getting their first look at the pacers and trotters in this afternoon's harness racing program.

Tonight's grandstand attraction is Steele's Frontier Days show. The show features clowns and comedy mules, 25 trained horses, novelty circus acts and the California Western Riders.

Today's racing program, the only daytime meet scheduled, included two events with $1,000 purses and two $600 races. Purses of $1,000 were offered in the 2-year-old pace stakes and the 2-year-old trot stakes. Other events were the 30 trot and 30 pace.

TONIGHT'S BAND concert will be presented by the Bucyrus High School Band, directed by J. Richard Simcox. Last night's concert featured the All - County Rural School Band.

Despite temperatures moving into the 90's, attendance at the opening day was considered normal by Fair Board Secretary James F. Gebhardt. The WLW Midwestern Hayride Variety Show was last night's grandstand attraction.

A Hereford steer, weighing about 1,100 pounds, was judged grand champion steer of the junior fair yesterday. The steer is owned by Donald Leonhardt of Sulphur Springs. Judy Lust of Mount Zion was the owner of the reserve champion steer, a shorthorn. The two animals are expected to command top prices at the annual junior fair steer sale Friday night.

MISS LUST'S entries also copped several other championship ribbons. She had the championship pen of three steers and also the light and heavy championship Shorthorns. Donald Leonhardt also had the champion heavy and light Herefords and his brother, Dorsey, took first in the heavy Angus class. Jeannette Christmans of Sulphur Springs exhibited the champion light Angus.

There also were several winners in the commercial class judging of the junior fair, limited to steers purchased by young farmers through the Producers Livestock Cooperative ssociation. The champion commercial Angus was owned by John Wingert of Whetstone. Carmen Heiser of Chatfield had the best light commercial Hereford and Arthur Hieber of New Washington owned the prize-winning heavy Hereford.

Judging was in charge of Tom Merritt, beef cattle specialist at Ohio State University.

There were 114 entries in the junior fair beef cattle division, nearly double the 1954 list.

Deficit of $11,890 Is Expected, Galion's 1956 Budget Reveals

GALION — The regular meeting of the Galion city council was held Tuesday night with only three members answering roll call. Councilmen Charles Lauer, William Amick and President R. W. Stall heard the first reading of the 1956 city budget, a letter from the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. and a letter from the Northern Ohio Telephone Co.

The high points of the budget reading were: the total resources for city income in 1956 will be $206,629.90 under existing conditions with total expected expenditures $220,520 providing a deficit of $11,890.10. Most of this deficit lies in the fact that the city will start the year out with $9,256.30 less than it did in 1955.

Provides Wage Increase

Expenses of the city will remain about the same except for the $5,000 in wage increases and $1,200 election expenses not needed in 1955. It was pointed out that the debt next year of $39,075 due on the water and sewer improvement bonds will be paid for not from taxation but from transfer of funds from water and sewer revenue.

Although citizens of Galion pay $19.20 per $1,000 in taxes, the city gets only $3.10 for operating expenses. The remainder goes for schools, county and township expenses.

The letter from the Northern Ohio Telephone Co. answered complaints of city council members on telephone service in Galion. The company will send M. R. Myers, district manager, to meet with city council. The letter pointed out the increase of telephones in the last ten years of 114 per cent or from 2,386 telephones to 5,115 stations.

Increase Circuits

Within a month, two toll trunks will be added between Galion and Crestline. Northern Ohio is joining with the Mansfield Telephone Co. to increase the existing nine toll circuits between the cities because of the new General Motors plant. In the past 90 days the firm has enlarged the cable south of Harding Way East and will next tackle north of Harding Way West which will include Bucyrus Rd., S. State Rd., N. State Rd. and the expanding Power Equipment Co.

Applications for private lines will be taken in order of application with the hope that the increased service will enable all who wish a private line to have one within a year.

The letter from the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. announced that there will be no change in rates this next fall up to November, 1955.

Without a quorum, no motions were possible. The meeting was recessed until next Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Traffic Cases

Five drivers were assessed a total of $85 in Marion Municipal Court Tuesday on traffic charges.

Fined $25 and costs on a charge of crossing over a yellow line was Arthur Walsh, 31, of Columbus.

Each of the other drivers was fined $15 and costs, all on speeding charges, and two of the fines and costs were suspended. The drivers were: James Patterson, 26, of near Huron; Glenn E. Blue, 23, of near Richwood; C. A. Slentz, 51, of Columbus, fine and costs suspended, and Jo Marie Rossell of Upper Sandusky, fine and costs suspended.

Juvenile Court Cases

Two 17-year-old Marion boys were fined $15 and costs each on traffic charges when they appeared in Juvenile Court Saturday. They were Donald E. Schweinfurth of 308 Uncapher Ave., charged with failing to yield the right of way, and Larry Gene Predmore of 247 Windsor St., charged with excessive speed.

Pilots Association Votes To Sponsor Unit of Air Scouts

The Marion Pilots Association voted Tuesday night to sponsor an Air Scout unit, a division of the Boy Scout organization. Representatives will meet with Boy Scout district officials on Sept. 6 to outline the proposed program.

The Air Scout unit would offer to the Boy Scouts of the Harding Area Council knowledge and training in aviation, George Wood, association president, said.

As a money-raising project in connection with the proposed Air Scout unit, the association will sponsor a hangar dance on Aug. 27 at the HPM hangar at the airport. Johnny Kessler and his band, who played for the two dances sponsored by the group last year, will provide the music.

On the following day, Aug. 28, the association will sponsor "penny-a-pound" airplane rides from 11 a.m. until dusk.

Proceeds from both the hangar dance and the "penny-a-pound" rides will be used for the proposed Air Scout unit and the completion of the association's clubhouse at the airport.

The group also decided to sponsor a weekend airplane trip to Houghton Lake, Mich., on Aug. 13 and 14, for members and their invited guests. Tom Clark is chairman of the event.

Wenzell and officials of the Dixon-Yates private power group contend there was no conflict of interest.

Cancelled at Ike's Order

The Dixon-Yates contract, negotiated with the Atomic Energy Commission, was cancelled in June on Eisenhower's orders after the City of Memphis decided to erect its own power plant.

The contract had called for Dixon-Yates to build a 107-million-dollar steam plant at West Memphis, Ark., to supply to the Tennessee Valley Authority power to replace electricity TVA transmits to AEC installations.

Edgar H. Dixon, who joined Eugene Yates in forming the company to build the West Memphis plant, has testified that Wenzell was no more than a courier in Dixon - Yates dealings with First Boston Corporation. He said he believed there was no conflict of interest with Wenzell's duties with the Budget Bureau.

Kefauver read a long statement designed to point up what he contends — over vigorous denials by Dixon and his attorney—are "glaring conflicts" in testimony Dixon and Wenzell have given to the subcommittee and to the Securities and Exchange Commission.

"I still say that he did not violate any criminal law or do anything unethical," said Bender, adding that the Senate had "full knowledge" of Talbott's connection with Mulligan & Co. when it confirmed him.

May Have Been Ill-Advised

But Bender said that Talbott may have been "ill advised in some of his activities."

"The public generally condemned Talbott because that's the way his case was portrayed," Bender went on. "I never knew a man to get a worse press.

"The Democrats were out to smear him and they did exactly that."

Nevertheless, he said, the resignation should end discussion about the standards expected by President Eisenhower.

Bender said he never knew Talbott personally. He had one conversation with him on the telephone, he asserted, and that was unpleasant.

What happened, he said, was that 4,000 persons from the district of Rep. Jenkins (R-Ohio) "wanted a certain doctor released from the Air Force."

"The doctor himself did not want to be released, but the community required a medical doctor," Bender went on." When I called the secretary on the phone regarding the situation and heard his response, from that time on I felt I would never call him up again.

"So I never had any further contact with him."

The homicide rate in the United States dropped from almost 6 per cent in 1934 to about 2 per cent in 1954.

Bus Line

Sixth Ward Councilman Harold Fralich asked if it were true that the company lost about $4,500 in 15 months of operation here and Baker gave an affirmative answer. Fralich then asked if this was in addition to a $4,500 subsidy provided by local merchants during the first three months of operations. Baker replied that the total amount of the subsidy could not be added to the loss because the subsidy was in the form of tokens purchased by the merchants and given to customers and employes to use. Some of the people who used the tokens probably would have ridden the buses even without the tokens, he said. This meant that acutally only about $3,000 of the subsidy could be counted as an addition to the $4,500 loss, Baker said.

Fralich said that this would mean that the company actually lost a total of about $7,500 during the 15 months of operation and Baker agreed. Gasoline taxes could save the city bout $1,300 over 15-month period and license tags about $1,875 each year, Baker said.

Other costs which added to the loss of the Springfield firm were the purchase of three used buses for the Marion operation at a cost of some $3,200 and the paying of some $1,500 in living expenses for the local manager while he was assigned to Marion. This was in addition to his weekly salary, Baker said.

Kenneth L. Rush, vice president and general counsel for the Springfield company, said company officials felt the city could have saved a total of about $6,000 on operation of the buses over a similar period of time. He added that the city might realize an even greater revenue from the buses by making the fare a straight 15 cents for adults and 10 cents for school children. The company had both cash fares and token fares for 12½ cents and 7½ cents, he said.

Asks About Students

Fralich asked about the number of school children using the buses. Pogue said that he did not know the number of children but said revenue from this source averaged about $40 a day. Total daily revenue was about $270 a day, he said.

Haldeman asked Baker whether there might be any advantage for the city, if it did operate the buses, to operate only two lines — the Center and Davids St. loop and north and south on Main St. Pogue said the only saving would be discontinuance of the Silver St. line.

Councilman-at-large Richard Lister asked Baker if he felt the city could operate the buses without jeopardizing other tax money.

Baker indicated he thought this would be possible if only part time supervision were used and the city cared to take advantage of the company offer to provide administrative assistance at cost.

Fifth Ward Councilman Don Quaintance then asked Baker how good bus business is in Springfield. Baker replied that it was "awful" there also and that a citizens' committee is now in the process of studying the problem there with hopes of finding an answer.

End of Decline Seen

Rush said that transportation industry experts predict that municipal bus transportation will continue to decline but that by 1960 the trend may be reversed and mass transportation systems will become a necessity. He said this is because it is felt that traffic congestion will become so heavy by 1960 that cities will have no choice but to reduce it by providing some means of mass transportation.

Lister suggested that the city might set up a 90-day trial operation of the buses to determine whether it could be done with no loss of revenue to the city. If it were decided to try such a plan, he asked bus officials, could the lease payments made be applied to the purchase price of the buses. Baker said the lease payments would be applied to the purchase price except for whatever amounts the company would have to pay out for insurance and fire rental on the buses.

Jack Lautenslager, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, reminded council that the merchants had helped start the bus company by providing $4,500 to help cover losses. This action was taken by the merchants mainly because of civic pride and their belief that transportation facilities are a necessity in any progressive community, he said. He said perhaps council should try operation of the buses on the 90-day trial basis for the same reasons.

Fralich said that he felt that if the city did try the trial operation and lost money council would be severly criticized for using tax money to cover the loss.

Questions Need

Quaintance said that he would like to ask, "Is there any real need for any type of service or business in a community if too few people use it to support it?"

Haldeman said that he felt there had been enough discussion on the issue and called for a vote on three possible methods by which the city might assume operation of the buses. These were to buy them outright, to lease them for an indefinite period or to lease them for a 90-day trial period.

No one voted for either of the first two plans. On the 90-day trial period operation, Lister voted for it, but each of the other councilmen attending voted against it.

Councilmen attending the meeting were Harold Smith, First Ward, James Jenkins, Second Ward, Ralph Williams, Fourth Ward, Quaintance, Fralich, Courtright, Lister and Haldeman. Mayor Harold F. Robinson and Safety-Service Director John Davis were also present.

was dead. She received notification only that he was missing somewhere in Korea.

"I thought he was dead. You know how some prisoners die in prisons or are never heard from again . . . I didn't know."

Of Schmidt, she says: "I loved him very much. After all, he is the father of my child. But I was only with him a few weeks before he went overseas."

Of Fine: "We're very happy. I don't like it up here in the woods but he's been a good husband and I love him."

Fine himself says little about the strange situation.

"We met and we fell in love. That's about all there is to tell," he said. "Her happiness means more to me than anything. We talked it over and it's my wife's decision."

Equipment Awaited

New Program To Speed Delivery of Mail Planned

The Marion Postoffice is awaiting equipment from the Postoffice Department in Washington, D. C., which is included in new department program designed to speed up delivery of mail.

The three-point program includes the sorting of mail into local and out-of-town bundles; the tying and bundling of the mail; and the earlier mailing of letters and parcels.

To augment this program the department plans to install new equipment.

LARGER standing boxes are replacing the small corner boxes to facilitate bundling and sorting of first class mail. Some of the larger receptacles, capable of receiving larger pieces and more items, as well as bundles of letters, will be in pairs, one for local delivery and one for out-of-town—thus saving time in sorting of mail later.

Cooperative mailing racks are also being prepared by the department for sorting mail in lobbies of business structures.

Several of the larger boxes have been installed in the downtown districts of Marion, Postmaster Homer D. Cole said today. Other equipment will be put in use here as soon as the local Postoffice can get it, he said.

PERSONS mailing in quantity are requested to tie their mail in bundles prior to mailing or delivery to the Postoffice, and to separate local mail from out-of-town mail as well as regular three-cent mail from air mail. The department has labels available without charge to patrons for use in identifying outgoing bundles of letters. One reads "All for Out-of-Town" and the other says, "All for Local Delivery."

Improvements in coordinating carrier and truck pick-up of the mail and in sorting and canceling procedures are being instituted by the department.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, in urging sending of letters earlier in the day, explained that nearly 60 million pieces of first-class mail are fed into the postoffices of 244 major cities in the United States every single weekday of the year.

"The cities account for approximately two-thirds of the nation's mail volume and the department's task is made even more difficult and complex because some 80 per cent of the total, about 48 million pieces of letter mail, is received daily by the 244 postoffices during a six-hour peak period from 4 p.m. to 10 p.m.

"If increased quantities of mail were received earlier in the day, our peak load would be reduced and evened out and a larger proportion of the mail could be placed on earlier trains, planes and motorized vehicles, thus assuring earlier delivery," he declared.

Payment Voted for Architect Of New Hospital in Crestline

CRESTLINE — Village council members Monday night approved payment of $1,500 to Loren Staker, Columbus architect, who is completing plans for the new hospital. The payment will be made following approval by the hospital board.

A letter concerning stream pollution was presented by Mayor Nelson Lee. The letter from Scanlon and Berger, solicitors for the Pennsylvania Railroad, stated that "the divisional engineer's office has already spent a day here in Crestline with the state's pollution man and is going over the problems with him." The letter added that a solution to the pollution problem will be worked out:

To Purchase Equipment

Councilmen approved the purchase of equipment for the purpose of cleaning manholes and sewers at a cost of $350 to $400. One-half of the cost will be paid by the city and one-half by the board of trustees.

Council suspended the license fee of $50 to two garbage collectors due to the extreme expense for burial of the garbage during this period.

Vaughn Williams was granted permission to install a new sidewalk in front of his new building on Seltzer St. and a resolution was passed so that the village can install a curb over this section from the Crest Theater to the Farmers and Citizens Bank.

Offers Space to Village

Paul Blubaugh announced that part of the new building which he will construct within the next four to six weeks will be available to the village for use as a south side fire station.

The resignation of Paul Horning from the village fire department was accepted. Horning is resigning to accept a position with Paul Blubaugh, contractor.

A complaint about a fruit tree obstructing the view at the corner of Washington Ave. and Bauer Ave. was referred to the street committee.

Other items of business included the approval of the payroll of $2,675.64 and the report of Mayor Lee's fines of $1,245.24.

Council will hold a special meeting with the police and fire departments next Tuesday night. The meeting will be followed with a discussion concerning the Main St. sewer.

House

Just before 9 p.m. Rep. Priest (D-Tenn), a barbershop tenor, assembled a chorus of harmonizers. Before it was over, even the packed gallery had joined in a chorus of "Moonlight and Roses."

At one point in the hour and a half floor show, an elderly, gray-haired woman in red jumped to her feet in the visitors' gallery and shouted to Rep. Rabaut (D-Mich):

"Hey, senator, I'd like to get in on this too."

Rabaut ignored this breach of rules at the time. But later he went to the gallery to give her a handshake. Gallery attendants said she gave her name as Mrs. Lottie Fitzgerald Lively, Louisville, Ky.

"It's my first visit to Congress and I'm enjoying it thoroughly," she told them.

Rep. Chelf (D-Ky) brought the house down, figuratively, with harmonica renditions, swaying like a hula dancer and stomping his feet.

The noisy chamber hushed while William Goodwin, 18-year-old red-haired page boy from Pontiac, Mich., sang "The Lord's Prayer" in a rich, deep voice.

Rep. Gray (D-Ill) ranted loudly through a professional-sounding tobacco auctioneer's chant.

Riot

ers protested disciplinary action against Johnny Crawford, 22, an habitual criminal serving a life term and described as a leader in last week's riot.

Some of the subdued prisoners complained bitterly after Tuesday night's fight of what they called police brutality. Kilday said some prisoners were slugged by officers as they filed out of the cell block but that he stopped it when he saw it.

Escobedo was serving a 90-day term for theft. He died in a hospital about 30 minutes after end of the riot.

Out of 222 naturally occurring mineral commodities produced or utilized in the United States, only seven are not known to occur in California.

Marine Corps Now Forming 'Peace Platoon'

A "Peace Platoon" is now being formed by Marine Corps recruiting offices throughout northern Ohio and northwestern Pennsylvania.

This special platoon is being formed in commemoration of the 10th anniversary of the end of hostilities in World War II on Aug. 14.

From the Pearl Harbor attack of Dec. 7, 1941, until the occupation of Japan 44 months later, the U. S. Marines were in the thick of the Pacific fighting in World War II.

Dedicated to the furtherance of "On Earth, Peace, Goodwill Toward Men," the local Marine Corps Recruiting Office is selecting this special group of men as a particular tribute on this 10th anniversary.

Applicants for the platoon will be accepted until Aug. 16. On that date the group will receive the oath of enlistment at Cleveland and depart from there for "boot training" at Parris Island, S. C.

Applicants may enlist for either three or four years.

Young men between the ages of 17 and 28 who are interested may contact the Marine recruiter at the Marion County Courthouse every Wednesday.

Congress

from federal regulation, Upper Colorado River development, customs simplification, rigid farm price supports and expanded Social Security benefits.

Issues Still Alive

All these measures were passed by one House but ignored by the other. They remain alive to touch off new disputes in the 1956 election year session.

The legislators took no action on several recommendations Eisenhower is expected to renew next year.

These include proposals for liberalizing the refugee admission act, increasing postal rates, lowering the voting age to 18, loans for low-income farmers, federal reinsurance of health programs, pay increases for top government executives and revision of the Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Act.

Looming on the horizon for 1956 control both Houses, barring upsets caused by deaths, are expected new proposals to cut taxes and a showdown fight over Democratic-supported efforts to restore rigid farm price supports.

House In High Spirits

The House wound up its business in a carnival atmosphere, with perhaps more than the usual amount of singing and general hijinks.

But that ended shortly before adjournment with a tribute to his colleagues from Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex), who said:

"I think you have been the hardest working Congress that it's ever been my privilege to serve."

Rayburn wished all members "a happy holiday" and said he hopes they find the people back home "in a good humor with you."

Senators, less boisterous, passed around compliments. Then in a chamber from which nearly all his colleagues had departed, Sen. Morse (D-Ore) spoke on into the night.

Morse said he had come armed with the texts of "more speeches" he could have delivered. He ordered their texts published in the congressional record, delivered one saying Eisenhower should call Congress back into session "to act on schools."

Health Licenses Required for Fair Food Concessions

Persons or groups planning to operate food concessions at the Marion County Fair were reminded today by Dr. M. M. Weinbaum, city health commissioner, that they must obtain a food service license from the city health department.

"Safe, clean food at the fair concessions," is the slogan of the department, he said. "Just as your favorite restaurant must, every food concession at the fair will have to display the yellow and black food service license," he added.

In order to obtain a license, each of the food concessions must first be inspected by a public health sanitarian.

Such organization as farm or church groups planning a food service operation at the fair should make application for a license now, Dr. Weinbaum said. This will enable the sanitarian, Joseph Purcell, to work with each concessionaire in planning good sanitary practices, the commissioner said.

As for food service operations which travel from fair to fair, "we will honor the license which they must obtain in the county in which they begin their season," Dr. Weinbaum said. He added that the concession must still be inspected by the local sanitarian to insure that it is maintaining the required sanitary standards. These standards are set by the state's food service law.

Gabby Douglas

George Sokolsky

No society can long remain static Events force changes in structure, just as ideas force changes in the nature of government The orderliness of a society is not to be measured by its capacity to reject change but by the strength of its institutions to withstand change without due process

SOKOLSKY

The difference between the conservative and the radical is not the velocity of change but the method of development

Our Constitution provides ample due process for affecting any kind of changes that the American people desire As a matter of fact by the process of amendment the government of the United States could be abolished altogether, to use an extreme example

THE BASIC structural theory of our government is the division of powers So firmly was this idea adhered to by the Founding Fathers that the first three Articles of the Constitution setting forth functions and limitations, follow the divisions of powers rigidly The first three Articles are 1 The legislative 2 The executive, 3 The judicial

The foreign affairs of the United States are conducted by the president assisted by his secretary of state in accordance with the Constitution

The Congress plays a constitutional role in foreign relations as follows 1 It declares war 2 It ratifies treaties, 3 It appropriates funds for the conduct of foreign relations in peace and in war it confirms the appointment of officers dealing with such matters It may refuse to do any of these things

THE JUDICIARY plays no role in the conduct of foreign affairs, except as matters may arise out of law suits that come to its attention The judiciary plays no role in the formulation of policy, in the conduct of foreign relations in the appropriation of funds or in any other way.

When therefore Justice William O Douglas while still a member of the Supreme Court, wherever he may be holds forth on the foreign policy of the United States he engages in an act of impropriety When what he says is opposite to the stated policy of his country as publicly declared by his government, his conduct is outrageous

It has been said that while Douglas is justice of the Supreme Court he is also a citizen of the United States and that such a statement as he is reported to have made in Tokyo concerning our foreign policy has no official nature but is personal opinion

A PERSON who appreciates the proprieties attending his position knows that certain offices require restraints of tongue because those who don the uniforms of some offices never are private persons

A justice of the United States Supreme Court could not with propriety shoot crap even at a private party, similarly, he ought to have better manners than to talk out of turn If he wants to do a lot of free-and-easy talking he ought to resign from a job that places upon him the restraints of position

The phrase, "the dignity of a judge" had potent meaning in the United States and particularly as applied to federal judges They do not run for office they do not have to compromise themselves by raising campaign funds they do not have to curry the cheap plaudits of the mob

They are appointed for life or good behavior and it is expected of them that they shall remove themselves from vulgar living and wise-crack obiter dicta

THEY ARE EXPECTED to be aloof and dignified To put it plainly, such living is part of their job and they are paid a salary to abide by it just as a traffic cop is paid not to be drunk on his beat

In recent years, there has been a let-down in judicial proprieties and some of it is quite ugly There was a time when it was possible to see a justice of the Supreme Court come up to New York on a weekend night-clubbing with ladies whose notorieties were known to those who specialize in such matters It was not a pleasant sight if one gave a thought to the dignity and the propriety of the judiciary

No one can prevent Justice Douglas from talking too much and about subjects which are constitutionally none of his official business That has become a habit with him and because it is unusual, extraordinary and in bad taste it makes news and he is assured a headline

Reds' Big Lie

By Victor Riesel

TOKYO

Nicolai Lenin the evil little genius who led the Russian revolution once said that Communisms road to Paris was through Peiping and Calcutta—capture the Orient and the rest of the world falls

VICTOR RIESEL

I've hit that road What I find proves that the Russians have been kidding us at the Summit Bluntly, they're living in their teeth They haven't made one friendly gesture in the Far East This is still their road to world power—and they are on it'

They're pouring saboteurs espionage agents, millions of dollars and tons of propaganda into every eastern nation to undermine us and tear our Oriental allies from us

Certainly, they don't want war They don't need it At this rate they'll win without firing a shot

AND THEY'RE WINNING in Japan Slowly, but most definitely They dominate the most powerful labor federation, the Sohyo I've just been to its national convention and I thought I was at an anti American Communist rally

Typical is the school teachers' union which won't cooperate with the anti narcotics division of the government by directing its members to warn their pupils of the evils of opium Of course the opium trade brings the Sovietized Chinese government in Peiping 600 million dollars a year

I've listened to the Japanese counterpart of J Edgar Hoover He is Goichiro Fuji, director of Japan's Public Security Investigation Bureau

He reports that the Japanese Communist party has 300 000 members and sympathizers and runs a secret army under a central command, called the Military Committee" This is part of a Russian controlled underground which has 4,500 full-time agents

The Japanese 'FBI" chief has just told Cabinet members here that the existence of this underground Communist army gives living lie to the new Communist tactics of peace and good behavior

FUJII WARNED the government that these new tactics are the most dangerous Already, the Communist underground has succeeded in infiltrating central government offices here And fully 60 per cent of the Communist-dominated Sohyo labor federation are government workers in the most strategic bureaus

There are 28 Communist party members in the vital Justice Ministry alone Fuji disclosed He added, 'That's few compared to some other offices"

This means that the Communist party is in a position to know what's happening inside the Japanese police and other governmental divisions—to which we, the U S, confide some of our most important defense secrets Fuji sadly warned of the danger of the new Communist respectability—but few are taking all this seriously

The public sees what I saw at a recent Communist rally here Some 27 000 Communists poured into the International Stadium in the Ryogoku section

My translator told me that some of the Commie leaders, appearing publicly for the first time in years said in effect that the Communists must take their time Revolutions aren't made overnight It all must be carefully planned

AND ONCE MORE the lead at the rally was taken by the Japanese Communist labor commissar, Ichizo Suzuki

Here is as good a place as any to point out that Comrade Suzuki and his people had a wild time of it right after the war At that time certain of our Army officers permitted the conquered Japanese government to subsidize the growth of Communist labor unions by paying their organizers and supplying them with office stationery and other operating equipment, which were used to agitate against us

From that labor base in 1945 sprang the powerful Communist labor machine of 'oday which is the center of Communist underground strength right now We have no one but ourselves to blame

THAT UNDERGROUND machine is kept oiled by the Russians Whatever they told us at the Summit didn't have any effect on their anti-U S operations here The Japanese intelligence officers and our State Department know that at least $650,000 was sent by Moscow into the Japanese undercover Communist movement in the past four years That's what we've traced Obviously millions of dollars more have slipped in surreptitiously

Soon all this undercover work will turn the Japanese people against us

Then we'll have to fight to keep our military bases here or we'll have to get out If we get out most of the Asian nations will fall to the party The road to Paris will be open

So what happened at the Summit?

Top Baritone

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

America's widest bosom doesn't belong to either Jane Russell or Marilyn Monroe Leonard Warren acknowledged by a number of critics to be the world's present best dramatic baritone says he is six feet tall keeps his weight around 200 pounds—and has a 52 inch chest

HAL BOYLE

Well ladies may we go on from there?

In the fine art of operatic singing top dramatic sopranos baritones and the gents who can dig a deep base share a small but endless competitive world

The voice The voice It is everything It is a power in itself a power above the temptations of self-indulgence even above the wistful wish for money

AT LEAST SO says Warren who says gimmicks are helpful but he has no gimmicks as a singer

No one gives a voice but God' he said 'All that can be done then is to assist it

You must have the humility and the intelligence to use it After all why didn't my sister or brother have this same gift? There had never been another singer in the family"

If this talking about his talent seems mildly egotistical on Warren's part it is justified Confidence in himself as well as his vocal cords is a key part of his makeup as it is with all great singers

They must feel a power over the audience to control it

WARREN, A BRONX-BORN boy without Italian blood who has been accepted and saluted by the tough audiences of La Scala in Milan as the top man in his field is also comforted by the recognition he has achieved as the leading baritone of the New York Metropolitan Opera

'This is where I was born — This is where I live," he said 'even to step upon the boards of the Metropolitan Opera . It is a tradition A feeling'

Warren ducked out of his dad's wholesale fur trade, worked in a filling station then sang in the Radio City Music Hall for three years before winning a Metropolitan audition over 700 contestants

He has a repertoire of 26 operatic roles learned a number of them very swiftly in the heat-push toward success, now says it takes a full year to learn a new role well

"YOU ASSUME THE music," he said But to knot the role to feel it is you . and you are it well that is the problem

'After singing it a hundred times you begin to understand the role and feel it fits you and you fit it'

The title role of "Rigoletto' is pretty much his by popular default He has sung it more than 100 times — on at least three continents

How does a major operatic star live? Seriously

"I have to live very simply" said Warren "I do nothing to excess Not in food or liquor I don't smoke Some do I don't

'An artist cannot afford excess I don't take physical exercise although I do like to walk I go to bed early

"NO I DON'T practice singing But about once a week I go to my old singing teacher for an hour whenever I can . . It is a kind of psychological checkup

'Money' The greatest enemies of an operatic singer are the common cold and the income tax I first sang for $35 a week Now if I earn $1,000 I can keep for myself $1 98 — and if someone with a cold breathes in my face I have to worry about catching the cold Deductions? I cannot even deduct the cost of my singing lessons

'Discipline' That is the whole thing in the music business What am I afraid of? Only that I won't be worthy of this gift I was given It has a responsibility"

Then I asked Warren what he thought was the most important thing in the world

'To be tranquil with yourself and God" he said

A 12 cents an hour premium for night shift work also was agreed upon, along with quarterly cost of living adjustments and liberalization of the pension and insurance programs

Negotiations toward settlement of a strike at eight Deere & Co plants in Illinois and Iowa were to be resumed today The strike started Monday after talks broke down over the union's demand for a layoff plan and a wage increase

A UAW spokesman said the average pay at the Deere plants is $2 28 an hour

UAW also is negotiating with other farm equipment firms —Allis-Chalmers, with headquarters in West Allis, Wis , and International Harvester Co , Chicago.

I've got a new Motor Oil that can give you 5 to 10 more horsepower!

Sound wonderful? It's true—and here's why:

You see, ordinary motor oils have to be warmed up to flow freely. And not only does your car's engine start cold even on the hottest summer day, but it seldom fully warms up in average driving. The result? It wastes 5 to 10 horsepower just pushing the oil around.

Not so with new Shell X-100 Motor Oil Premium.

It flows freely even when your engine is cold—so you gain the 5 to 10 horsepower conventional motor oils waste.

Then, too, the special "alkalizer" in X-100* Motor Oil Premium stops acid action—the major cause of engine wear.

Next time, have your Shell Dealer refill with new Shell X-100 Motor Oil Premium. It's the finest protection your engine can have.

White Sox Hold Lead With 2-1 Victory Over Boston Red Sox

Collins' Second Home Run Shades Indians in Tenth

Tribe Trails by 2 Games As Wynn Takes 2-1 Loss

NEW YORK (AP)—"Well, now," said Prof. Casey Stengel, "that was more like it. But I hope it's not quite as close today. We're all liable to get ulcers."

Stengel was referring to the 2-1 ten-inning squeaker his New York Yankees won from the Cleveland Indians last night on two home runs by Joe Collins and the fine pitching of Tommy Byrne.

"You know," mused the professor, "when Gil McDougald got hit during practice, I fiddled around with all sorts of different lineups before I decided on one."

"Then when we were getting along around the eighth inning or so, I says to myself: 'Case, this one must be wrong. These guys are getting all sorts of hits, but they're not scoring.'"

Collins, the in-again, out-again first baseman, took care of that little matter when he caught one of Early Wynn's offerings. He slapped it into the lower right field stands at almost the same spot he hit his first round-tripper in the first inning.

It was ironic that Collins and Byrne should emerge the stars. Collins has lost his first base job to rivals too numerous to list, and Byrne appeared to be finished last year until the Yanks brought him back from Seattle of the Pacific Coast League. Now he's the "stopper" of the staff.

Wynn Rough

"Maybe this will get us out of our slump, beating Wynn," said Stengel. "He's a rough character."

Stengel was right about the hits. Of the nine the Yanks collected, five were for extra bases. But, except for his two lapses with Collins, Wynn always had it when the going got rough.

Manager Al Lopez, whose Indians dropped to third place two games behind Chicago's White Sox, called the game "a tough one to lose."

Before the crowd of 43,124, the Tribe had battled the Yanks on even terms through nine frames before going down in the first extra inning. A triple by Al Smith and a sacrifice by Bob Avila, the first two up in the first inning, provided Cleveland's only run.

Lopez Ejected

In the eighth, when the hot-tempered Wynn boiled over at a call by umpire Bill Grieve, Lopez walked to the mound to calm Wynn down and got into the argument with the result that he and pitching coach Mel Harder were ejected at the end of the inning.

Grieve had called a ball on a 3-2 pitch to Collins in the eighth and at the time, the walk represented the potential winning run.

'Sure I cussed," admitted Lopez. "I was burned up. He missed the pitch."

Mike Garcia, who has beaten the Yanks once and lost three low-score games to them, each by one run, pitches for the Tribe today against Bob Turley who has lost to the Indians twice and is still looking for his first victory over them this season.

Homer by Rivera, Three Singles Win for Chicago

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Staff Writer

A handful of oldtimers, supposed to wilt in the heat, looked like a crop of young rookies as first place Chicago and runnerup New York gave Boston and Cleveland hotfoots in the sizzling American League race Tuesday night.

It was Connie Johnson, 32, and Millard (Dixie) Howell, 35, both reclaimed from the minors, who supplied the pitching in the White Sox, 2-1 decision over Boston. And at New York, the Yankees nudged Cleveland 2-1 on the pitching of 35-year-old Tommy Byrne, another retread, and a pair of home runs by Joe Collins, 32.

As a result, the White Sox still have their one-game lead over the Yanks, but Cleveland has fallen two games back and Boston four.

Fifth-place Detroit, 7½ games behind, outslugged Washington, 13-10, and Baltimore tumbled Kansas City 5-1.

In the National, Brooklyn gave in to a Milwaukee rally, 5-3; New York beat St. Louis 3-0; Cincinnati whitewashed Philadelphia twice, 2-0 and 4-0; and Chicago pasted Pittsburgh 12-4.

Johnson's Fourth

Johnson had Boston's kids well in check with two out in the ninth, then had to get relief for his fourth victory in five decisions since being brought up from Toronto June 30. He gave a single to Jim Piersall and went 2-0 against pinch-hitting Faye Throneberry before Morrie Martin, another veteran, came on. Throneberry swatted a triple to make it 2-1 and Howell, up from Memphis, went 3-2 against Eddie Joost before getting him on a game ending fly.

Three singles made for one run in third off loser Tom Brewer and Jim Rivera belted a homer for the winning margin in the fourth.

Collins, with just two home runs in the last two months, made it 1-1 in the first inning with his first homer of the night. Then he broke up a duel between Byrne and Early Wynn, another 35-year-old guy, with his one-out poke in the 10th.

Smith Triples

The Indians' run came in on Al Smith's leadoff triple and Bobby Avila's sacrifice fly. From then on, Byrne shut the door — giving just six hits the rest of the way for his 10th victory against two defeats.

Detroit blew an 8-2 lead and then a 10-8 lead at Washington before jumping on reliefer Pedro Ramos for three in the ninth. Harvey Kuenn had two doubles and a pair of singles for the Tigers as each club got 17 hits.

Milwaukee tied the rooks at 3-3 as Ed Mathews swatted his 28th homer — his second of the game—then got two more in the big eighth inning rally on Don Zimmer's error, Phil Paine one-hit the Dodgers in four relief innings and fanned six for his first major league decision this year.

Johnny Antonelli, one of the big busts with the Giants this season, blanked the Cards on five hits while Don Mueller drove in two runs with a single and a sacrifice fly.

Reds Take Two

Cincinnati coupled a four-hitter by Johnny Klippstein and a five-hitter by Joe Nuxhall with the bat work of Gus Bell to sweep the twi-nighter from the Phils. Bell had two RBI singles in the opener and hit two homers in the night-cap.

Ernie Banks matched a major league record with his fourth grand slam home run of the season for the Cubs and added a run producing single to trample the Bucs. His bases-loaded shot marked a six-run sixth.

Banks of Cubs Hits 4 Homers To Tie Record

CHICAGO (AP) — Ernie Banks, phenomenal shortstop of the Chicago Cubs, is laughing at the sophomore jinx, having tied one major league home run record and within range of another.

Banks tied the mark of four grand slam home runs in one season Tuesday as he led the Cubs to a 12-4 victory over Pittsburgh. The record is shared by 10 others, including Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig.

Banks slammed one of Dick Littlefield's pitches into Waveland Avenue for his 32nd home run of the season to launch a six-run fifth inning.

That leaves him only seven short of Vern Stephens' major league mark of 39 home runs in one season by a shortstop set in 1949 with the Boston Red Sox.

Banks played only one year of professional baseball before joining the Cubs late in 1953. He looks like anything but a slugger a 6-1, 175 pound 24-year-old who doesn't even swing hard.

Last year he knocked out 19 home runs and drove in 79 runs with a .275 average. In addition to his 32 homers this year, Banks already has 79 RBIs and has a .284 average.

Doby Has Chance To Set New Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — Cleveland's Larry Doby can set an American League record today — all he needs is an errorless performance in centerfield in the Indians' game with New York.

Doby made it 157 games without a miscue Tuesday night as the Tribe lost to the Yankees 2-1. That matched the AL mark for outfielders set by Sam Mele with Chicago and Baltimore through 1953-54.

Plays Hamilton Today

Marion Team Decisions Northwestern Nine 4-3

Marion's National Leaguers battle Hamilton today at 5:30 p.m. in Urbana for the district Little League tournament title and a berth in state play.

The locals advanced to the district finals by edging the Northwestern Little League nine 4-3 Tuesday evening at Urbana. Hamilton earned the other final berth by besting Grove City 11-5 in an afternoon contest.

Gerald Bosh's first inning three-run homer and fine relief pitching by Tom Prichard were big factors in Marion's win. However, the winners scored the winning marker in the top of the sixth on a throwing error.

Bosh's blast which got Marion off to a flying start was preceded by a walk to Ken Coffae and single by Ned Porter.

The losers came back to knot the score at 3-3 with a single tally in the first and two in the second and were threatening in the next frame when Prichard took over for starter Dick Merchant to put out the fire and shutout the Northwestern squad on two hits the rest of the way.

Lead-off batter Altman singled to touch off the losers' first inning rally. He moved to second on a passed ball, advanced to third on an infield out and crossed the plate on Micciechi's single. Dreffer started off the second inning fireworks with a lead-off single. Byall came through with another single and both runners advanced on an infield out, with Dreffer scoring on a fielder's choice and Byall coming home on Altman's double.

Two walks, with a single by Herman sandwiched in between, filled the bases with one out in the third and Prichard came on to retire the side on two strike-outs. The losers were unable to threaten again off Prichard's slants.

Marion's National League squad, meanwhile, was held nearly helpless after the three-run, three-hit third. Hurler Jim Livensparger of the losers held the winners to one hit—by Merchant—in the next four frames. A walk led to his downfall in the sixth. With one out, John Keller drew a free pass to first. Then, in attempting to catch Keller stealing second, the Northwestern catcher threw into centerfield with Keller circling the bases with the winning run. Catcher Tom Larkin garnered Marion's final hit with a two-out single.

Prichard in three and two-thirds innings of relief ball, struck out five and walked none. Merchant gave up five hits and struck out three while walking two in his stint on the hill.

Livensparger gave up only five hits to the winners. He fanned seven, walked three and hit a batter.

Cleveland To Use Vets Against Stars

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Browns, rounding out two weeks of training and down to 43 players, intend to use veterans most of the way against the College All-Stars in Chicago Aug. 12, Coach Paul Brown says.

And the 1955 National Football League champions have a generous supply of veterans returning—26 in all. Five of those not coming back may be missed a good deal: Quarterback Otto Graham most of all; offensive halfbacks Billy Reynolds and Chet Hanulak; and linebackers Tom Catlin and Tony Adamle.

Ohio State's Weed In All-Star Camp

CHICAGO (AP) —The College All Stars stepped up offensive and defensive drills Tuesday for their football battle against the Cleveland Browns at Soldier Field Aug. 12.

Tad Weed, Ohio State place-kicking specialist, reported to camp at 145 pounds, much to the alarm of coaches. He was immediately put to work wearing a rubber shirt and assigned to the "fat men's" training table.

Weed, who rested after kicking 10,000 successive practice field goals, is at his best at 139 pounds.

11 Trotters Go Today in Rich Hambletonian

GOSHEN, N. Y. (AP) —Eleven of the world's speediest 3-year-old trotters face the barrier today in the $86,863 Hambletonian Stake, and the horse with the coolest name —Scott Frost — could very well smash the record.

Few concede much of a chance for anything else in the race against the California Comet owned by Sol Camp. Drivers and owners of the opposition acclaim Scott Frost as the finest 3-year-old trotter since the immortal Greyhound won the 1935 Hambletonian.

The first mile heat of the race was scheduled at 2 p.m., EST, with other dashes to follow every hour until one horse wins two brushes.

If there is one dark horse in the race, it could be Indian Raider, owned by Dave Resnick of Washington, Pa.

Charles Meets Jackson in TV Battle Tonight

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Is Ezzard Charles finished? Is Hurricane Jackson just a freak fighter?

The answer comes up tonight at War Memorial Auditorium and it could be "yes" in both cases.

Charles, the 34-year-old former heavyweight champ, must win convincingly over the awkward Hurricane if he is to remain a serious factor in the division.

Jackson, only 23, must prove he can handle a "class" fighter of Charles' stature if he is to retain his No. 3 ranking among Rocky Marciano's contenders.

The 10-round match will be carried on ABC radio and television at 8 p.m. CST.

Boston Fans Feel Sox Will Take Flag After Team Climbs Into First Division

By JOE REICHLER

BOSTON (AP)—The usually sober-minded inhabitants of this northeast section of the country are engulfed in the biggest wave of excitement to hit them in 10 years. Bostonians, in particular, are in a frenzy.

The people at the airport, the cab driver, the hotel clerk, the bellhop, the elevator operator . . . they all sing the same song. The Red Sox are going to win the pennant.

There's no doubt that the Red Sox, picked to finish somewhere in the second division, and floundering around in seventh place only a couple of months ago, have become the smashingest hit in the modern history of New England baseball.

The pennant fever has spread even to the players themselves. Almost to a man, they believe they're going to represent the American League in the World Series next October. The writers traveling with the club also are convinced of this. Only Ted Williams, with the wisdom of many years experience behind him, and Manager Mike (Pinky) Higgins remain composed and unruffled.

On June 5, the Red Sox had completed their first 50 games. They had only 20 victories and trailed the league leading New York Yankees by 14½ games. Last week, on July 29, they completed their second 50. Thirty eight of those went into the winning column.

From outlying provinces, Red Sox lovers flocked to the ball park. People waited in line hours for tickets. Recent series with Cleveland and Detroit drew near-capacity crowds. At least one sellout crowd was assured for the current three-game set with Chicago. So great has been the demand for tickets that the attendance is certain to soar well over the million and a quarter mark. Tickets for games with the Yankees and Indians next month already are sold out.

"The enthusiasm of the fans has been keeping people away," moaned Joe McKenney, the tireless public relations director of the club. "Fans form lines for tickets as early as 8 a.m. People see these lines and don't bother to come to the games believing they won't get in.

"The fans have created unprecedented jams around the ball park. "They've forced extra police details. We've had to put on extra ticket sellers and telephone operators. There have been times when our ticket sellers have been forced to go without their dinners in order to handle the flow of fans. We've even received requests for world series tickets."

Smitty's, Eagles Lose

Mac's, Merchants Take Verdicts in Softball Play

Smitty's All Stars were upended by the Marion Merchants in Commercial League play at Garfield Park last night.

The Merchants edged Smitty's 3-2 while Mac's Trading Post, loop pace-setters, widened its lead with a 7-1 triumph over the Eagles.

Smitty's scored a first-inning run but the winners came back with a run in the bottom of the same frame and single runs in the third and fourth for the victory. Smitty's fell short with a run in the top of the seventh.

Jack Higgins' triple and Bus Gruber's hit accounted for the Merchants' initial run. Higgins led off the third with a homer to break a 1-1 tie and Chuck Conley scored the winning run after reaching base on an error. A double by Don Dutt drove him home.

Jim Kunkle was the winner on a five-hitter. Bud Thorpe of Smitty's gave up six hits.

Bud England held the Eagles to two hits in hurling Mac's victory.

He was touched for the losers' lone run in the first but held them scoreless the rest of the way. Mac's netted four runs in the second and three in the fifth for the win.

The second inning runs were scored on hits by Thacker, Walters a 1 Daum, a walk and error. Hits by Daum and Roseberry, a walk and error brought in Mac's final tallies in the fifth.

England and Thacker got Mac's final hits in the seventh. Darnell and Belt, on the hill for the Eagles, gave up seven safeties.

Reds Sweep Two; String Up to Seven

CINCINNATI (AP)—Good pitching, which has escaped the Cincinnati Redlegs much of this season, came in pairs last night.

Johnny Klippstein and Joe Nuxhall teamed up in a twi-night doubleheader to whitewash the Philadelphia Phillies 2-0 and 4-0.

Klippstein allowed six hits, walked five and struck out three in gaining his third victory. He has lost six. Nuxhall allowed five safeties, walked two Phils and struck out one for his 11th triumph against eight defeats.

It was the fourth shutout of the campaign for Nuxhall and the first for Klippstein since 1952.

Gus Bell, who became a father for the fifth time Monday, gave birth to four of the Red runs last night. His singles in the sixth and eighth brought in catcher Smoky Burgess in the opener. He also doubled. He homered twice in the nightcap, bringing his season's home run total to 18.

Wally Post tripled and Matt Batts singled in the fourth inning of the second game, and Nuxhall singled home Batts, who doubled in the sixth, to complete the scoring.

The sixth-place Reds now own a win streak of seven straight and are 1½ games out of first division. They play Philadelphia again tonight and tomorrow afternoon.

Both Klippstein and Nuxhall had their difficulties in the eighth innings.

The Phils filled the bases in the first game on two singles and an intentional walk. With two out, Bell smared on the run Willie Jones' sinking liner. Two of the Phils nightcap safeties also were registered in the eighth.

IL Teams Still Have Chance in State Tourney

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Eleven teams are still in contention—three of them undefeated—as the double-elimination American Legion state baseball tournament goes into its third day here.

In four (morning) games today involving teams that have lost one game apiece, four teams will be eliminated. The schedule shows Lancaster v. Portsmouth, St. Marys v. Steubenville, Cleveland v. Newark and Akron v. Mansfield.

Two undefeated teams — Toledo and Zanesville are scheduled for an afternoon round. Cincinnati, also undefeated, drew a bye in today's round.

The championship will be decided Saturday on Ohio State University diamonds.

In yesterday's action, Bexley, Warren and Brookville were eliminated from the tournament. Toledo edged Akron, 8-7, Zanesville beat Cleveland, 8-5, and Cincinnati topped Mansfield, 10-2.

Akron got 13 hits to Toledo's 10, and made a last ditch attempt to win the game in the last of the ninth inning by scoring four runs.

Zanesville bagged 12 hits off Clevelan dp itchhgiiNn elwteenCl-Cleveland pitching while the Clevelanders knocked out seven hits, Cleveland, behind 8-1, scored three runs in the last of the eighth, and another in the ninth.

Cincinnati's 12 hits were twice as many as Mansfield could muster. The Cincinnatians scored in every inning except the second, fourth and ninth.

About a dozen professional baseball scouts viewed yesterday's contests as the youngsters played under a blazing hot sun.

Among homerun hitters were Ted Kolve of Bexley and Dave Justus of Lancaster.

St. Marys made a brilliant comeback drive after trailing Bexley by eight runs after four frames. St. Marys went wild in the fifth with a seven run outburst and added one in the sixth, and four more in the seventh to win, 12-9.

The thoroughbreds Night Baker, Littel Baker and Mighty Baker, now running at Monmouth Park, are owned by Joseph Gavegnano, a Boston baker.

3 Teen League Hurlers Post No-Hitters Tuesday

Three no - hit shutouts were turned in last night in Marion County Teen League action which saw Marion's Indians and Elks triumph on enemy diamonds to draw closer to loop leading Fraternal Order of Police.

	W	L	Pct.
FOP	10	2	.833
Marion Indians	9	2	.818
Marion Elks	9	3	.750
Pleasant	6	4	.600
Prospect	6	6	.500
Green Camp	6	7	.462
CCM	2	10	.167
LaRue	0	12	.000

Bob Messner of the Elks blanked Claridon — Caledonia Martel 4-0; Joe Ambrose of the Indians whitewashed LaRue 16-0; and Bob Rodgers of Prospect shut out Green Camp 4-0. In completion of a tie game played a week ago, Pleasant edged Green Camp 4-3 on the Pleasant diamond.

MESSNER FANNED 12 while achieving his second no hitter of the season. He walked only two. Larry Coy gave him all the margin he needed with a homer with one on in the third. A hit, walk and double in the fifth by Larry Corbin accounted for the final two markers.

Rice and Howser worked for CCM, giving up five hits and striking out eight.

The Marion Indians came up with 11 runs in the opening frame on nine hits and Ambrose went on to post a five-inning no-hitter.

He struck out 10 and hit a batter.

THE WINNERS collected 12 hits off LaRue hurlers. Herrick, White and R. Isom worked on the mound for the losers. They fanned nine while walking four and hitting a batter.

V. Williams, Middleton and Ambrose all had two hits for the winners.

A first inning run proved to be the winning margin. Another tally in the fourth and two in the sixth completed the scoring.

AL STOVER was the Green Camp hurler and gave up only two hits in a losing effort. He struck out six, walked three and hit two batsmen.

Pleasant scored an eighth inning marker to complete a 3-3 tie game called after six innings because of darkness July 26.

The winning run came when Sharrell Leffler reached base on an error with one out, Charles Leffler was hit by the pitcher, John Peacock walked and Gary Seiter singled.

Toledo Loses First Place in AA Flag Chase

By The Associated Press

The Minneapolis Millers grabbed first place in the torrid American Association race last night as they trounced Louisville 10-1, but the action left only four percentage points separating the top three contenders.

Omaha, only 1½ games out in fourth place, knocked off Toledo 7-4 to drop the Sox out of the top spot for the first time since early July. The Denver Bears stayed a single percentage point behind Minneapolis with an 11-6 conquest of Charleston.

St. Paul whitewashed Indianapolis 2-0 to complete league action.

Columbus Jets Blanked 2-0 by Havana Team

By The Associated Press

Two former Rochester Red Wings have come back to haunt their former mates in the International League.

First baseman Charley Kress and relief pitcher Freddie Hahn teamed up to defeat their former Rochester mates, and lead the Buffalo Bisons to a 7-2 victory last night. The Red Wing loss made it three in a row and dropped them to within one game of fifth place as the surging Syracuse Chiefs edged the Richmond Virginians 5-4 in 10 innings.

In the only other scheduled game the Havana Sugar Kings blanked the Columbus Jets 2-0 to move within ½ game of second place. The Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Royals were idle.

Gil McDougald Hit in Practice By Batted Ball

NEW YORK (AP) —The New York Yankee second-baseman Gil McDougald was reported in "satisfactory" condition in the hospital today after being struck in the head by a batted ball before Tuesday night's New York - Cleveland game.

A drive off the bat of teammate Bob Cerv struck McDougald on the side of the head during practice as he stood just outside the protective screen set up near second base.

His ear was lacerated and there was considerable swelling around it. Yankee physicians were of the opinion that the injury is not series and that he will be released from the hospital today.

Pitching — Phil Paine, Braves, struck out six, gave just one Brooklyn hit in four relief innings for 5-3 first major league victory.

People We Have Met!

Bowed by the weight of the centuries
He leans on his indispensability,
And gazes at the ground,
With a catastrophic future in his face,
And on his back the burden of the universe.

SOUNDS LIKE THE MAN WITH THE HOE DOESN'T IT?

Every field of endeavor has them. I am sure you have met them, too. I don't mean to convey the point that life should not be taken seriously. There just isn't any use going into it with fears or fantasies completely beyond our capabilities and worrying about them, something which is pretty easy to do. A long time ago I developed my own little philosophy to keep out of those kinds of predicaments. I go fishing. I not only go fishing, but I enjoy it, too. So from now on, whenever I get too engrossed with business, local, national or international affairs, I hasten to sum up with the thought, "Gee, I am sure glad I like to fish."

I heartily recommend that philosophy to you. It is the best weight remover I have found. I believe that serious thought and effort should be expended and utilized to the fullest extent on situations that we can directly or indirectly affect. For instance, if you believe we should have a better country, work harder for a better community right where you are. If you think we should have a higher caliber of national politicians, work hard to get better local politicians. If you would like to improve your city or community, take an active interest in civic affairs and work for improvement by serving in some civic capacity. By doing some of these things, you can make your own efforts really count, and do a lot toward accomplishing many worth while objectives.

One of our objectives now is to do all we can to continue to merit the patronage of all you good people down at the L-K and the Nic-Nac. We know to do that we have to give you good food, good service at reasonable prices. We are always striving to the best of our ability to do just that. Remember our food has got to be good or you don't have to pay. Gee, folks, it's too hot to write more now . . . the L-K Restaurant is air conditioned, so I'll see you there.

Pennsylvanian Kills 1, Wounds 3 in Courtroom

CARLISLE, Pa., (AP)—A gun toting defendant, shouting that justice had deserted him, turned a Pennsylvania courtroom into a death chamber Tuesday.

Percy Haines, 60, whipped out a pistol, shouted he was getting a "raw deal" when ordered to pay his wife $50 monthly for support, and fired four times. He killed a lawyer and injured three others, including the presiding judge.

He was charged with murder and held without bail.

Victim of the bizarre slaying was John D. Faller, 41-year-old Carlisle attorney who was representing Haines' ex-wife Lulu, 60, in the nonsupport action.

Mrs. Haines, struck in the abdomen, was reported in "critical" condition at Carlisle Hospital.

Judge Mark E. Garber was hit in the upper right arm and doctors said there was a possibility it might be necessary to amputate.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Robert D. Post, 37, a former clerk at the Morehouse - Fashion Co. department store here, was taken into custody by police yesterday for investigation of a $100,000 shortage in store accounts. He then pocketed the money, they added.

Atom Bomb Killed 73,000 in Jap City 10 Years Ago

Nagasaki Will Mark Doomsday Aug. 9

Nagasaki, blasted three days after Hiroshima 10 years ago, has been called the "forgotten atom-bombed city." Here's how survivors there will mark the anniversary and how they are living with the memory of World War II's second and last atomic bomb.

By GENE KRAMER

NAGASAKI (AP) — Ten years ago was doomsday at Shiroyama Grade School

At 11:03 a.m. Aug. 9, 1945, the second atomic bomb dropped on Japan exploded about a half mile away and turned the building to rubble. Twenty eight teachers and more than 1,300 students died.

Today a new building stands on the same site. In its courtyard is a bronze statue of a schoolboy and two doves. It is inscribed: "The 9th of August is Doomesday."

Second of a Series

Once a month, a new generation of schoolchildren gathers around the statue. They say a prayer to the A-bomb's victims, sing a song called "Spirit of the Children," and hear a talk by principal Tatuso Oi.

Oi has been a school principal in Nagasaki ever since little Japanese boys and girls were forced to wave Rising Sun flags and shout "banzai" in schools such as this. Now completely bald he lost his first wife in the atomic attack.

"WE TELL THE PUPILS that such a dangerous weapon as the atomic bomb should not be used, or it will mean destruction of the world," Oi said in an interview.

"Then the pupils go to their own classrooms and their teachers guide them to think seriously about the peace of the world."

There is no formal classwork on World War II and the atomic bombing. It was eliminated from the elementary school course when the Allies occupied Japan and has never been restored.

"The children (ages 8 to 11) are too young for such a delicate question," said Oi. "They are living under various circumstances. Some had fathers who died on the battlefield. It would be wrong to evoke unnecessary yearnings for revenge.

"INDEED, IT IS NOT right that Japan was active in starting the Second World War. But in some points, it can be said that Japan at the time was so circumstanced as to resort to the last and worst means of finding a way to live, which is called war.

"It is not only Japan, but all other nations involved in the war which should feel responsible for the miserable situation of the world at that time."

The teaching pattern for youngsters in Japan 10 years after defeat's de-emphasis of the last war, aversion to things military and near worship of the abstract idea of peace. Some authorities warn this is making martyrs of the new army leaders that in a decade will backfire into a new era of military patriotism.

High school students get a terse chronology of the war, usually including a simple statement that the Pacific war started when Japanese planes bombed Pearl Harbor.

BY THE TIME THEY finish high school, the boys may become outspoken if they discuss history with opinionated parents or schoolteachers or read much. Right now the most voluble teachers are leftist inclined.

"Even if Japan had not been defeated, militarism surely would have swallowed this country," said 16-year-old Yosuke Hashimoto of Nagasaki. He said he developed this currently popular idea while reading up for a school forum.

Survivors of Nagasaki's A-bomb blast spent the night after the attack atop Mt. Kimpira, now called magic mountain because it shielded most of the city from disaster. A shipbuilding yard downstream, which had launched some of Japan's biggest battleships and reportedly was the central target, was only slightly damaged. But 73,000 people were killed.

NEXT WEEK. on Aug. 9, the people of Nagasaki will dedicate two new civic buildings to the memory of those dead. One is the new 50 foot-high bronze statue called "Prayer for Peace." The other is a six-story building which cost a third of a million dollars—Nagasaki's' new international cultural center and auditorium.

On the fifth floor photographs of survivors are displayed, along with samples of melted tile and burned clothing. There is a cracked bust of Christ facing away from a clock stopped at 11:03, the instant of the explosion.

Air Tour, 4-H Club Tractor Rodeo Set In Wyandot County

UPPER SANDUSKY — Flights will begin at 9 a.m. at the Upper Sandusky airport and continue throughout the day on Aug. 13 when the Wyandot County air tour will be sponsored by the Soil Conservation Service.

Donald Hall, SCS farm planner and general chairman of the air inovation, said that eight planes will be available in addition with several others which can be chartered on short notice.

W. W. Wharton, county agricultural agent, said that tour goers will view special agricultural practices such as grass waterways, open and tile drainage, farm ponds, irrigation systems, terracing, trench silos, etc.

Ground activities will also highlight the day's activity as the county 4-H tractor clubs stage their annual 4-H Tractor Rodeo at the airport in conjunction with the air tour.

Lunch will be available on the grounds.

New Schedule Adopted For Bucyrus City Pool

BUCYRUS — The municipal recreation commission here has approved changes in the schedule for the Aumiller Park swimming pool.

During August, the pool will be closed at 5 p.m. on Fridays and remain open until 9 p.m. on Saturdays. The pool will be closed Sept. 1-2 and reopen Sept. 3, continuing through Monday, Sept. 5, closing date for the year.

Supervised play at the city's three playgrounds will end Aug. 15, Alex Kish, municipal recreation director, reported to the commission.

About one fourth of the fruits and vegetables spoil before they reach the consumers' tables.

Pandora Times Changes Owners After 53 Years

This town of 2,000 has sent out 65 foreign missionaries in that 53-year period. Edited by David B Basinger until his death in 1942, the newspaper carried no liquor, tobacco or movie advertisements.

Vincent Schumacher, son of the new publisher, has been named editor and manager He has made no statement concerning policy the paper will follow under the new management.

The average number of people who have moved into California each year in recent years is 284,000, more than those moving out.

Radio and Television

By BRUCE BARTON
Pinch Hitting for John Crosby

The Ad Agency Tempo

It is big hearted of John Crosby to invite an ad man into his editorial sanctum. While Mr. Crosby has been fairer to us in the advertising business than some of our other critics, even he occasionally implies that Madison ave is a huckster's paradise, that its habitues are well-dressed, 15 per cent heeled parasites who have contributed little or nothing to TV or radio except a new language called "Madison Avenuese."

JOHN CROSBY

Agencies seemingly do nothing, according to his reports, but hold conferences—all-day conferences—carried on with expressions such as "Kick this around the top of your head, Mannie"; or "Finalize this up and also down, Mannie"; or "We need to gimmick up the gimmick, Mannie."

I sit in on daily conferences at our Madison Ave. offices, and it may be that we are backward or something, but the language we still speak there, Mannie, is pure Marion Star-ese.

IN THE OLD DAYS advertising could be quite an enjoyable business. It was possible to plan a campaign, write the copy, buy the art, make the plates, get the client's O.K., and then go fishing. The creative work on the account was done; no special effort or worry would be required for quite a while.

Then came radio and TV. Our offices now are beehives; they are open, and some one is working in them at almost any hour, with telephones ringing, messengers darting in and out, and one of a team of three lawyers on call all the time. Nobody has been fishing since the coaxial cable was laid.

The TV and radio and other creative departments of advertising agencies are staffed with highly talented people. Among my own associates are men who have written and produced hit shows on Broadway; artists who have exhibited here and abroad; composers of song hits; former college professors, newspaper and magazine editors, and even ex-columnists. Plus a flock of diplomats who would qualify for the Court of St. James, since they must continually play the part of interpreter and mollifier to producers, playwrights, actors, musicans, artists, and clients — all of them temperamental and highly sensitive to costs.

PROBABLY THE MOST put-upon folk are those known variously as agency producers, agency supervisors, or just plain agency guy (or gal). These toilers behind the scenes of practically every important TV program are among the nation's hardest workers.

The agency producer must know advertising, which means knowing why people buy or can be persuaded to buy. He must know the client's product. And he must know TV, which means the theater, motion pictures, and radio, all wrapped up in one. He must know every detail of costs, budgets, union requirements and codes, talent, sets, props, art work, camera technique, music, trucking, sound effects, costumes, lighting.

If he introduces humor into the commercial, he must know to what extent the client's wife's sister-in-law has a sense of humor, if any. If the client's advertising manager likes blondes and dislikes brunetts, he must not forget that important fact in his casting.

EVEN WHEN EVERY detail has been planned, there are accidents and crises. Only recently one of our producers arrived at the studio with a box of carefully selected tobacco leaves to be used in a cigarette commercial. When the box was opened and the leaves exposed to the hot studio lights, they began instantly to dry and curl and flake. What to do? He grabbed the box and fled to a near-by Turkish bath where both he and the leaves steamed successfully until air time.

When credits appear at the end of show, the names of these people are never listed. They are not out receiving applause, bowing or blowing kisses. Their hours are murderous.

Take an early morning program, for instance, one that goes on from 7 to 10. The agency producer may be out of bed as early as 4:30 and in the office by 5:15. He must gather up the "props"— one of them perhaps a cake or a pudding baked in the agency's test kitchen the night before — and report to the studio by 5:45.

He sets the props, checks shots and cameras movements with the studio technical staff, and is ready for camera rehearsal at 6. When the show is over at 10, he consults with the studio, and the agency's copy writers and artists about the commercial for the next day.

IN THE AFTERNOON he visits the client, receives the comments, compliments and complaints, and promises to do better next time. If the agency producer is on an evening show his routine is about the same, except that his day starts in the afternoon and lets him get to bed long after midnight.

Why any man or woman wants to be an agency producer is not definitely known. But, thank Heaven, some do. For without them there would be no commercials, and without commercials no radio or TV. Just as without printed advertising there would be no newspapers, Mannie, and no John Crosbys.

Second Pastor To Face Trial In Heresy Case

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A young Milwaukee area Luthern pastor was suspended from his pulpit Tuesday on recommendation of a church trial board which had found him guilty of heresy.

The Rev. George Crist Jr. of Durham, was tried and convicted by a trial committee of the United Lutheran Church's northwest synod last week. Meanwhile, a second pastor in the same synod, the Rev. John Gerberding, 33, of Menomonee Falls, is accused of similar doctrinal deviation and faces a trial before fellow clergymen later this month.

Pastor Crist was suspended from his church duties by Dr. Paul E. Bishop of Minneapolis, president of the synod, who thus followed the recommendation of the trial committee.

The 31-year-old Durham minister is vacationing with his wife and three daughters and has not yet been reached for comment on what he plans to do between now and next May, when the synodical conference will review his case and decide on punishment. This may range from a rebuke to dismissal from the Lutheran ministry.

Pastor Gerberding sat with and counseled pastor Crist in the losing defense that their liberal interpretation of scriptural events was permissible within the Lutheran church.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP) — Moderate progress was made today by the stock market in slightly expanded trading.

In the early afternoon, prices were up around two points while losses were fractional. Some individual stocks exceeded that range.

Electric Auto Lite and Chrysler were features of trading at lower prices. Auto Lite lost around three points at times. Chrysler traded narrowly for a small loss or gain.

In Detroit, a Chrysler spokesman denied rumors that Chrysler was negotiating to merge with Auto Lite.

Reynolds Metals, up 3½ Tuesday, was strong today following announcement of a major expansion program.

U. S. government bonds were firm.

'Slow Down, Live' Safety Decals Are Available for Cars

Bumper stickers bearing the 1955 traffic safety slogan of the National Conference of State Safety Coordinators—"Slow Down and Live"—now are available for Marion motorists.

The 12-inch blue and yellow stickers are free for the asking and are available at the police department record bureau at City Hall, through Douglas Torrance of the Kette-Torrance Insurance firm, and at various service stations in the city. A total of 1,000 of the stickers will be distributed in the city.

The "slow down and live" campaign was first introduced in 11 northeastern states in 1953 and proved so successful the project was expanded to 24 states in 1954 and this year to all 48 states and U. S. territories.

Police Chief Thomas B. Coon praised the idea of the campaign but said the slogan is valueless unless all drivers head the warning to slow down and live. The more the stickers appear on car bumpers, the more local drivers will become aware of the need for caution in driving, he said.

Cpl. Schroeder's Body Returned

Burial Services Slated For Korean War Victim

CPL. GUY M. SCHROEDER
Killed in North Korea

The body of a former Marion soldier, Cpl. Guy M. (Bud) Schroeder, returned to United Nations authorities from North Korea by the communists in an exchange of bodies of war dead, will be brought here for funeral services and burial. He was a veteran of World War II at the time he joined in the Korean conflict.

Receiving the information concerning her son from the U. S. Department of the Army was Mrs. Ed Klemach of Saginaw, Mich. The serviceman lost his life in communist controlled Korea while on duty with U. S. military forces. He was a member of the 32nd Infantry Division of Co. D, 7th Army. His age was 23.

He was reported "missing in action" Dec. 2, 1950. Not until June 16, this year, was he listed as a battle fatality. The last letter received from him by his relatives located him in the Chosen Reservoir area. He had joined the service in July, 1950, and was flown overseas in September.

Born in Marion Feb. 12, 1927, he attended Marion schools and Greenwood EUB Church and entered service from this state. During World War II he served 20 months with the American troops and was with the army of occupation in Germany.

Surviving with his mother are his father, Guy R. Schroeder of Gladwin, Mich., and his son, Kurtis Alan Schroeder of Saginaw; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Valentine and Mrs. Dorothy Turner of Saginaw and Mrs. Marge Freese of 342½ S. Prospect St. in Marion; and his grandmother, Mrs. Imo Heth of 675 E. Farming St.

Funeral services are set for Saturday at 10 a.m. in the Merle H. Hughes Mortuary on Mt. Vernon Ave. Burial will be in Marion Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7:30 p.m. Thursday. Military rites will be conducted by the Bird-McGinnis Post 162, American Legion of Marion.

Toledo Bakery Strike Averted

Pact Signed Before Midnight Deadline

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A threatened strike that would have cut off 90 per cent of the bread supply for this city of 320,000 was averted yesterday when the AFL Bakery Workers Union reached a contract agreement with four major bakeries here.

The strike had been scheduled for midnight last night.

Only three bakeries—Continental, American and General—were directly concerned in the negotiations. But a fourth, Jersey Bread Co., promptly accepted the same terms. Some 500 workers were affected.

A union spokesman said negotiations would start immediately with eight smaller bakeries here. The pattern set here will be sought by the union in 19 cities in Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

"If you chicken farm workers were to carry a few eggs in your pocket, and when they broke you realized you were drunk, you would not be appearing so frequently in this court," he said.

Mt. Vernon Youth Wins Model Car Contest, $4,000 Scholarship

DETROIT (AP) — Milton J. Antonick of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, won a $4,000 senior division prize scholarship yesterday in the 1955 Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild model car contest.

Antonick, a sophomore at the University of Dayton, was selected for the first prize on the basis of craftmanship, originality and practicality of his car design.

The youth and eight other winners are entitled to membership in the body of Fisher Hall of Fame.

Prize winners were honored last night before a group of scientists, educators and industrialists at a banquet commemorating the guild's 25th anniversary. Also present were 33 winners in regional competition.

Antonick had tried twice before for the scholarship award. In 1953 he won honorable mention in the Ohio competition, and the following year he took first place in the state and the Michigan-Ohio region.

In designing his scholarship winning Odel, Antonick's objective was a long, low and shark-like car. His model was built of laminated poplar and all metal copper trim, filed and polished.

Antonick plans to become an automobile designer after college. He works as a life guard and attendant at Mount Vernon city swimming pool during summer months to pay his tuition.

New Green Camp Gas Rates Given Council's Approval

Green Camp village councilmen approved an ordinance accepting new rates of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. at the regular meeting Monday night.

The gas company, which is allowed a six per cent return by law has been receiving less than one per cent. The ordinance allows a graduated increase within the next five years to make a total increase of five per cent. The average consumer who heats his home with gas will be paying approximately $4 more per month by the end of the five-year increase period. The increase for the first half will amount to $2.50 per month with a $1.50 per month increase to be spread over the remaining four years.

The annual budget as approved by the county budget commission was adopted by council and permission was granted to the Methodist Church to place a sign on Main St. which will point to the church.

The Ohio Legislative Service Commission, a fact-finding group, yesterday agreed to look into the problems and report to the 102nd General Assembly. The recently adjourned Legislature requested the studies.

The commission, composed of Senate and House members, approved studies which included:

Political contributions by labor unions; public school finance and equalization of subsidies for districts within a county; administration and financing of public welfare, poor relief hospital costs and the private employment of older workers.

Highway vehicle weight limits and right-of-way acquisition; farm drainage; annexation and incorporation questions in metropolitan areas; workmen's compensation rate procedures and competition from private insurance firms; Ohio Aviation Board powers and administration.

Codification of state racing laws; a uniform trade and commercial code; leases on land rights at state-owned lakes and parks

The commission previously agreed to studies on taxes and revenues, water supplies, distribution of funds to local governments and laws on eminent domain.

Previous legislatures have made passes at most of the questions to be studied but considered some of them too hot to handle or felt others required more study.

Commission Chairman Roger Cloud, House Speaker, scheduled the next meeting for Sept. 28. Members also approved salary increases for key staff members totaling $3 300 a year. Granted increases from $25 to $100 a month were C. William Ingler Jr., H. Sydney Duncombe, John F. O'Brien, Richard L. Dunham and Victor A. Miller.

Proud of its many racial strains, Jamaica feels that each should have its queen. "Miss Apple Blossom" will be the title given the queen of white European descent. Reject Damage Claim

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—An injuries compensation claim by Carl Horn, 40, abducted last July 11 by jail escapees Samuel Tannyhill and Charles Toewe, was turned down yesterday by Sandusky County Commissioners. Horn contended he had to pay doctor and hospital bills and lose work as the result of a wild automobile ride which ended in a crash near Marion, Ohio. Both recaptured, Tannyhill is awaiting trial on charges of murdering a waitress and Toewe was held on a lesser charge.

Dies of Injuries at Lima

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Carl Wildermuth, 63, Prestonsburg, Ky., died last night of injuries received in a two-car collision on Ohio 65, three miles south of here. The accident Saturday night also killed his wife, Della, 43.

Sister From Italy Will Join Adopted Brothers in Canton

WASHINGTON (AP) — The two small adopted sons of a Canton, Ohio, couple won't be separated from their sister after all.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Torcasio (2607 19th St. NW) adopted the brothers, ages 3 and 5, whose parents were killed in World War II in Italy. But when they wanted to adopt the children's sister, Mary Mancuso, 11, of Nicastro, Italy, they were told she was too old to enter the U.S. under the same law which permitted the boys to come here.

This was the story told by Sen. Bender's office. The Ohio Republican supported a special bill by Rep. Bow (R-Ohio) to waive restrictions and let Mary join her brothers. The bill passed the Senate yesterday and went to President Eisenhower for signing.

New Wyandot County Agent Assumes Post

UPPER SANDUSKY — Miss Madge Smith, a graduate of the University of Kentucky in January, 1954, has been appointed by the Ohio State University and the Wyandot County Advisory Council to take over the duties as Wyandot County home demonstration agent, succeeding Mrs. Priscilla Smythe, who resigned to become a homemaker.

Miss Smith took five weeks' training in Putnam and Crawford counties before coming to Wyandot County. She was a teacher in home economics at Sulphur Springs, Crawford County in 1954-55, Miss Smith's home is in Corbin, Ky.

She said that the new projects for the Wyandot County homemaker include for October, broiler meals; November, shoestring purses; the annual Christmas open house which has proved quite successful in the past few years; January, storage; February, simple sewing helps and better dresses for the special interest group; and for March, oven meals.

The year's program will also include the annual home councilors' picnic and Achievement Day.

Miss Smith reports that 4-H members are planning their floats for the fair.

RCA Is Bullish In Bear Market For Color Video

NEW YORK, (AP)—In the arena of American business there are few more interesting sights than a bull in a bearish market. That was exactly the picture presented this week by the Radio Corp. of America when its subsidiary, the National Broadcasting Co., announced that in the coming season it will increase its color television programing over last season by 500 per cent.

RCA manufacturers color television sets. NBC televises color programs. In the field of color they remind one of a fellow who sets out to sell sail boats in the Arizona desert. The job of RCA is to build the boats. The job of NBC is to create the lake on which to sail the boats.

The NBC announcement indicates they're creating quite a lake: spectaculars, major sports events, dramas, the Milton Berle Show—and many others coming to the screen in color for the first time. Most significant is the emphasis on daytime programs in color. The purpose appears two-fold: to give dealers something to show their customers during business hours, and to give Mama (the girl who usually decides what ta buy) a chance to look at some programs while Pop is at work making the money to pay for a new color set.

The cheerful bullishness of RCA in color television is at sharp variance with the attitude of nearly all other manufacturers. Their attitude generally has been the cautious one of wait and see.

Talbott Was a Dead Duck

When those who were not without sin began to cast stones at Air Force Secretary Harold E. Talbott, he was a dead duck.

The stone-throwers' knew the law of the political jungle—that a vulnerable appointee cannot be defended at the expense of a chief executive's prestige.

Talbott was vulnerable. He had compromised both the letter and the spirit of his obligation as an Eisenhower appointee to put himself above any possibility of the money shenanigans which riddled the Truman administration and became the hottest issue in the 1952 presidential campaign.

When he kept on making money for himself while ostensibly on the sidelines as a government servant, Talbott set himself up for the slaughter.

He embarrassed the chief executive who had given him his appointment. That is the unforgivable sin of appointive office.

Still unanswered is the question of whether or not it should be an ethical misdemeanor for a businessman to make money while serving his government. The politicians, with no intention of taking the veil themselves, would like to make it appear that only the poor can be admitted safely into the kingdom of Washington.

The setup is absurd, because it takes all kinds of citizens to run a self-rule government, including some who have learned how to handle money without having either nervous prostration or larcenous twitchings.

Secretary Talbott knew what he was getting into when he subscribed to the "reform" standards of the Eisenhower administration. He cheated and got caught.

The Air Force will lose a competent administrator and the Eisenhower administration will keep its skirts clean. There are no indispensable men but a clean skirt is an indispensable virtue in politics.

Rags to Riches

It was to have been expected that eyebrows would be raised over the news about the Teamsters' deal giving President Dave Beck the free use of a $160,000 home in Seattle, along with other costly prerogatives.

But the time for eyebrow-raising was when the Teamsters bestowed the same kind of a handsome deal on their now president emeritus, Dan Tobin. Tobin has had many more prerogatives than Beck which is to be expected because he is the man who made the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers the world's largest and wealthiest union, starting in 1907. Beck did not become interested in the Teamsters until 1925 as a part-time organizer. He has been president only a few years. Tobin was president from 1907 to 1952, when Beck stepped in.

The important thing to understand about such men as Tobin and Beck is that they are personal symbols of the growth of unionism—the "nouveau riche" of organized labor in the United States.

Not all union leaders choose to show their power the same way. Some go to the opposite extreme of self-denial. Some play it down the middle. But in a country where unions now own hotels, skyscrapers and multi-million-dollar surpluses in their treasuries, it is no longer sensational when a union official lives in the grand manner.

It is just a routine detail in the American success story of rags to riches.

City With a Good Name

Geneva's usefulness as a background for diplomacy is restoring some of the prestige the city lost when the League of Nations was scuttled by its members in pre-World War II days.

The diplomatic negotiations in Geneva between the Communist Chinese regime at Peiping and the United States are a demonstration of the city's usefulness.

The United States and the People's Republic of China cannot negotiate in Washington or Peiping. They cannot negotiate through the facilities of the United Nations in New York.

They are barred from negotiations in any of the European or Asiatic capitals that are identified with one side or the other in the issue between the authoritarian and voluntary governments of the world.

But they can negotiate in Geneva, because of Swiss neutrality and the tradition that has made Geneva an acceptable site for international discussion.

The tradition is so powerful in its effect that it has crossed only a few minds so far that the United States has been conducting a series of diplomatic negotiations with Red China at Geneva. The conversations now in progress are only the latest and most expanded of the series.

What would have been howled down as recognition of the Communist regime had it occurred anywhere else is being accepted as routine diplomacy because it is taking place in Geneva, where talking things over has been established as a way of life.

A Texan offers $50 to any of his employes who will quit smoking. The fellow who regularly quits once every two weeks could make a nice thing of this.

Ulterior Motives Prompt Release of U.S. Airmen

Months and months of shenanigans behind the scenes have finally resulted in the release of the 11 American airmen held by the gangster regime in Peiping.

Lawrence

The United States government has paid no ransom, and the Red China government has made no concession — that's what the official record says. The moves have been made with a deep-seated expectation that Red China will obtain better treatment now for her claims to a seat in the Security Council of the United Nations than she otherwise would have gotten. The release of the airmen — whose imprisonment was unlawful and high-handed in the first instance — will be hailed in Europe as a dramatic change of attitude and as a manifestation of peaceful purpose. Actually the Americans were imprisoned in the first place merely to be used as pawns in the diplomatic game which the Peiping government has been playing.

THE PATTERN of behavior is no surprise. On Jan. 17, not quite seven months ago, this correspondent called attention to the remarks of the secretary general of the United Nations, Dag Hammarskjold, on his return to New York City from Peiping, when he said:

"It is not really a question of negotiations. It is a question of where the ground is prepared by negotiation — that ground having partly been prepared and partly by negotiations conducted by this or that national government. The final decisions, I think, will necessarily emerge as unilateral decisions in all those various ticklish cases. They will emerge as unilateral decisions and as part of a general development, more than as a result of any kind of settlement."

Commenting on the foregoing, this correspondent wrote: "This means that each side does whatever it does without any apparent pressure from the other and seemingly in spontaneous fashion.

That way of handling it is almost a prerequisite to success because each side, especially in the case of Red China, must presumably not 'lose face,' which is something of vital importance to Oriental psychology . . .

"Anyone familiar with the resourcefulness of personal diplomacy conducted with the old-fashioned skill . . . will read between the lines and come to the hopeful conclusion that after all the shouting dies down the 11 Americans will be released by Red China's government."

IT MAY WELL be asked what arguments were used by the many go-betweens behind the scenes, including Krishna Menon and Prime Minister Nehru of India.

It was clear that the United States government couldn't be in the position publicly of paying a ransom.

It was clear also that the Red China government couldn't place herself in the position of bowing to a demand.

What better way out than to let time pass and then permit each government to act on its own and seemingly of its own volition?

The United States took certain steps. It agreed to talk with the Red Chinese envoys face to face in Geneva. This called for some action on Peiping's part.

Undoubtedly the Red Chinese were told by intermediaries that maybe Washington then would consent to talk about other things—perhaps the Formosa problem and later on even the admission of Red China to the United Nations if the Peiping officials showed some signs of bending and released the airmen.

Having held the airmen primarily for bargaining purposes, it undoubtedly seemed reasonable to the Red Chinese to release the airmen just before the Geneva talks on Far Eastern affairs began rather than afterwards.

IT WOULD LOOK to the world like a "unilateral" act. Thus the two ambassadors who met in Switzerland in the early part of this week had only the question of captured American civilians and "other practical matters" to discuss.

Plainly, under these circumstances, the United States couldn't turn away from talks on any subject once the conference has begun. As one official put it, "we can listen, but we don't have to agree to anything."

The tangible thing, however, is that the Red Chinese have made a sensational move and have given the appearance of great friendliness. The United States government is, therefore, compelled by world opinion to listen to arguments on the whole Far Eastern problem.

This is what the British and French governments want — in fact, they're ready to abandon the 500,000-man army of Chiang Kai-shek and surrender Formosa to the Red Chinese.

THE BIG QUESTION is whether the United States has been maneuvered through the use of the imprisoned fliers into a position where America will be accused of obstructing peace in the Far East unless it lets Red China have something in exchange for its exhibition of alleged humanitarianism.

The airmen, of coufrse, never should have been kept in prison after the signing of the Panmunjom agreement, which pledged the return of all prisoners of war.

What "ransom" will America pay in the long run for the release of the 11 airmen? That's a question the answer to which only future events will reveal.

It was a "unilateral" act for the Red Chinese to release them.

What 'unilateral" act is coming next from the American government? That's the real issue now.

Will He Play This Again?

Ethics and Politics

By Raymond Moley

It can be asserted with assurance that the attack upon Harold Talbott, secretary of the Air Force, was politically inspired. Had there been no election in the offing, the matter would not have been exploited.

It can be asserted also that if nothing more serious than is now known was done by Talbott in behalf of private interests, he stands guilty of nothing more than an indiscretion. He had the assurance of a Senate committee that he might keep his membership in the Mulligan firm. Soliciting business for that company while in office was hardly a violation of the letter of the law.

But to establish the fact that no law was violated and that politics inspired the attack does not dismiss the responsibility of Talbott. For a public official in a free government owes a double obligation, first to the public interest and next, to his party.

THERE IS nothing reprehensible about the fact that political motives inspired this attack or in the fact that Talbott and everyone else appointed by President Eisenhower owe an obligation to the Republican party.

The interests of everyone in the nation depend upon the vigilance of a political opposition. It is written in the laws of nature and the book of experience that human beings of all sorts bear a bit of watching. And in a vast government like ours, the congressional opposition is in a position to perform that service.

The fact that the opposition does it for selfish purposes does not minimize its service. Even the policeman who guards your house while you sleep has a selfish interest in being on the force.

MOREOVER, the obligation of a man like Talbott to his party's interests is a very serious matter. Tens of thousands of people labored long hours in 1952 to get out the vote for Eisenhower. Most of them did what they did without hope of personal gain. Certainly only a tiny minority of them were rewarded with jobs in the government.

Those who did get those jobs, from the President down, owe it to those who worked and those who voted to do nothing to give campaign material to the opposition.

A political party is a team, no member of which has a right to endanger its interests.

Perhaps as a businessman Talbott felt that, since a Senate committee told him he could keep his connection with the Mulligan firm, this assurance was all he needed in case somebody in the opposition began to ask hostile questions. But what is a safe assurance in private business is not necessarily safety in public office.

THE VAST public with which both parties are concerned is not moved by the logic that prevails in a corporation's' board of directors. It lives to a degree on rumors, prejudices, envy and suspicion.

In geometry, the square of the hypotenuse of a right-angled triangle is the sum of the squares of its legs. But in politics it depends upon how the public looks at it.

The sooner that businessmen generally realize this, the better the nation will be served. For businessmen have a great contribution to make in government, provided they learn th political facts of life.

Three Senators Play Key Roles

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON

Every session of Congress produces at least one dominant figure, dominant in the sense of being effective or being in the spotlight. This year's session produced three dominant men who were outstandingly effective.

All three were Democrats: Sen. Walter George, 77, of Georgia; Sam Rayburn, 73, of Texas, speaker of the House; and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, 47, of Texas, Democratic majority leader of the Senate.

Democrat George was Republican President Eisenhower's chief reliance in Congress on foreign affairs. George is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

THEY, MORE THAN anyone else in Congress, steered through to passage the year's bundle of legislation with a minimum of fuss and feathers.

That these three men — all quiet, undramatic, unsensational—should be the outstanding men in the Capitol in 1955 is the best evidence that this was a peaceful and businesslike year in Congress.

All three were creative in the sense that they were for something: they backed programs.

Very often it's the men who make a record for being against something — Like Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), who cheerfully attacked both the Truman and Eisenhower administration — who are dominant in the sense that they monopolize the spotlight.

THE SPOTLIGHT'S full glow was on McCarthy last year as it was ever since 1950 when he began making his charges of Communists in government. Last year, however, he had to share the center of the stage with the two men who put the skids under him: Flanders of Vermont and Watkins of Utah, both Republicans.

This year McCarthy, Flanders and Watkins all disappeared back into the comparative obscurity from which they had emerged.

George's influence and prestige on the side of Eisenhower came at a handy time for the President, whose own Republican Senate leader, Knowland of California, was frequently critical of his ideas on foreign affairs.

As George, without bluster, took full control in the foreign field in the Senate, Knowland had less and less to say and disappeared further into the background.

GEORGE WENT DOWN the line for Eisenhower and at least once seemed to provide the nudge that pushed Eisenhower into action. It was George who first suggested the President meet with the Russians a few weeks before Eisenhower agreed to it.

Johnson and Rayburn are as fine a pair of professionals — in getting legislation passed or blocked — as Congress has seen in at least a generation. Both work quietly behind the scenes lining up votes and agreements.

Under Johnson's guidance the Senate astonished itself with the amount of work it got done with a minimum of argument.

Daily Bible Thought

"And David put his hand in his bag, and took thence a stone, and slang it, and smote the Philistine in his forehead."—1 Sam. 17:49. The skill developed in the humble task of protecting sheep from wolves saved an army later. There are no unimportant tasks.

Help for Weeds

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Ralph Muthardt's farm has well-watered weeds. When a few thistles peeked through the grass in one of his hay fields he started his tank truck, dousing the weeds thoroughly.

Several thousand gallons later he discovered he had failed to add weed killer to the water.

Unplanned Prophecy

ATHENS, GREECE (AP)—Porter Antony Byzos, 26, was carrying a heavy oak coffin down the street. A neighbor asked him whom it was for.

"For me," he quipped.

A few minutes later he slipped, fell and was crushed by the weight of the coffin.

Club for Speeders

DUNN, N. C. (AP)—Speeders convicted in Harnett County are invited to join the 55 Club. The state speed limit is 55 miles an hour.

Membership cards say they are eligible "by reason of being convicted of a speeding violation on the highways of the state and by reason of the fact that (they have) since that conviction, promised to assist the fight against speeding in Harnett County and North Carolina."

Cpl. Romie F. Williamson of the state highway patrol originated the idea for the club which is approved by Ed Scheidt, state motor vehicles commissioner.

Gems of Wisdom

The difference between perseverance and obstinacy is, that one often comes from a strong will, and the other from a strong won't.
—Henry Ward Beecher

Leading by a Neck

By TRUMAN TWILL

My plans for redesigning the human body are almost finished. I am currently working on the neck, one of the worst places.

The thought came to me while lying on my back underneath a piece of machinery and holding my neck at right angles in order to see a bolt I was trying to start a nut on that the neck needs a locking device.

The proprietor of a neck should be able to put it where he wants it to be and lock it in that position until he is ready to move it into a new position. This would be a boon to mechanics, the promoters of air shows and theaters with plenty of seats down front to sell for musical comedies.

While the neck was being redesigned to include a locking device it also should be equipped to keep turning free until it has completed one and a-half turns, in the manner of long-necked birds that can crank themselves up without injury and scan everything in sight without reversing their field.

This would require a longer neck than is now common, but the human body needs more length in the neck to keep the face and the body apart. The problem of the neckless human specimen is growing troublesome in dietary circles, dressmaking shops and the shirt-making trade.

There would be merit in making this longer neck telescopic so it need not be extended until something happened requiring its use, such as a touchdown in a football game. But a problem arises: How to keep dirty-necked little boys from folding up inside themselves when approached with wash cloths.

A well designed neck would have a removable section in it that could be unscrewed in a few seconds to remove chicken bones, buttons, open safety pins, misdirected food and aspirin tablets caught in transit. This handy aperture also would permit direct spraying in case of infection and handy access to tonsils and windpipes.

The Adam's apple would be streamlined into the over-all design of the thing so this fascinating mechanism no longer would lure small children into poking at it with inquisitive fingers and cause spellbound strangers to stare in popeyed wonderment as if waiting for a cuckoo to dart out and tell the time of day.

But mainly the neck would be improved by inclusion of a locking device. People doping off in chairs would get rid of that foolish wobbling effect. Airplane spotters could work in comfort. Reading in bed would be easier. Sergeants would have less trouble teaching recruits to keep "eyes right." Bird watchers and walkers could get more fun out of their peculiar hobby.

Vacation Road Signs

Tourists report several states taking the humorous approach in road signs to promote safe auto driving. In Carolina some read: "These Helpful Signs Will Guide Your Way, So Take It Easy; Enjoy Your Stay."..."If This Trip Is Too Fast, It May Be Your Last." etc., etc... It strikes this department as a good idea. People have been paying little attention to the warning signs of the past, and anything that will catch attention will be great stuff.

Our Poet Laureate of the Dizzy Zones suggests the following:

Seeking Joys That Travel Brings —
Or On a Flight to Test Your Wings?

Better Try Less Rapid Going:
Bob, Your Landing-gear Is Showing!
III
Safety Signs You'd Better Ponder;
This Is Not the Wild Blue Yonder.
IV

You're a Psychopathic Case.

Than Early at the Golden Gate.

GINO PRATO, BRONX SHOEMAKER, who has won 32 grand answering questions about the Opera on "The $64,000 Question" is making up his mind whether to go for $64,000 and we guess it is pretty hard to get your shoes fixed by him just now. . .If we wanted our brogans repaired at any time during his quest for the big TV jackpot we would have put him in the special booth and then asked, "Think this over carefully. . . Have you any interest in shoemaking at the moment?" We hope the shoemaker toes the mark, gets off on the right foot, puts his heart and "sole" into it and concludes that $32,000 is a lot of rubber heels. P. L. K. says he assumes Prato's favorite operas are "The Cobbler of Seville," "Tristan and Isoledem," and "Der Meisterbunion"... Our desire is to ask him who wrote "The Lost Cordovan" and how he likes "Farewell to Fallen Arches" from Samson and McAnn?

RUSSIAN AGRICULTURISTS on their Iowa farm tour tried their hands at golf....We wouldn't be surprised to see the Soviet wearing "I Like Ike" buttons next.

Doug Ford is the new PGA golf champion and we think Cary Middlecoff should have paid more attention to those signs "There's a Ford in Your Future."

Eddie Arcaro lost on five favorites in a row recently. . .Probably wound up crying, "A horse, a horse, my kingdom for a third choice!"

"Land of the Pharoahs" is a wonderful movie pictorially but we think that William Faulkner, in helping with the story, got run over by a caravan of camels. Gov. Ribicoff of Connecticut, in threatening a midnight curfew on teen-age drivers, says it is up to parents to know where their kids are going by automobile and what time they will be in. . .Ever try it on a teen-ager. Guvnor? . . .If Connecticut and most states are leveling in their fight against tragedy on the highways they will do some all-out battling against open defiance by truck drivers of all the rules and laws which the rest of us are held to. . .Trucks pay no attention to the speed laws or white lines, beat the lights by habit and race each other two abreast night after night after night.

Yale has a School of Alcoholic Studies. . . We remember away back when those majoring in that study got their diplomas at Mory's, the Hofbrau, Old Heidelberg and Eddie Moriarity's.

Mrs. Catherine Kreitzer, of $64,000 Question fame, took the $32,000 but will make plenty on TV shows. . . She was on "Toast of the Town" Sunday night with Ethel Merman, an event which gave us a chance to see the gal closest to Broadway and the woman farthest north from it.

Bronx Shoemaker Gets Chance At $64,000 Question in TV Quiz

NEW YORK (AP) — Could you answer this question:

What Verdi opera started Arturo Toscanini on his career as a conductor; in what country did he conduct it; where was the opera first performed and on the eve of what holiday was that premiere?

The correct answer was worth $32,000 to Geno Prato, an Italian-born Bronx shoemaker, on a television quiz show Tuesday night.

Without hesitation the lifelong opera enthusiast gave the right reply — Aida; Brazil; Cairo, Egypt; and Christmas Eve.

This doubled Prato's previous winnings on the CBS show, "The $64,000 Question," and entitled him to come back next week to try for the top prize of $64,000.

Prato, 55, had the choice of taking $16,000 won the week before or risking it on the chance of doubling his money with Tuesday night's question.

Announcing his decision to try for $32,000, Prato said, "With God behind me all my life, I think I will try."

Next week he again has the choice of accepting the prize money won to date or taking a chance on the final question. This will again be a question about opera, since that is the category Prato designated when he first appeared on the show.

If he chooses to try the question and misses, he will get an automobile for a consolation prize. Thus far no contestant on the program has tried for the top prize.

Prato said he will use his winnings to take his family back to Italy to visit his 92-year-old father, who lives near Genoa.

Drive Slated Here for Funds For Mentally Retarded School

The appointment of Robert Axe, William Wiedemann and Dan Smith as Marion County co-chairmen of a fund drive for mentally retarded children was announced today by Dr. Charles Harding of Worthington, general chairman of the Columbus area drive.

The goal for the entire Columbus area which includes 23 counties is $150 thousand. The goal for Marion County is $5,000.

Will Expand School

Funds collected by this drive, sponsored by the Acre of Mercy Foundation for Mentally Retarded Children, will be applied to the expansion of Our Lady of Mercy School for mentally retarded children at Granville. This school, the only recognized private school for retarded children in the state, currently accommodates 32 retarded girls. Plans call for a new building which will house training and living facilities for 150 children, both boys and girls.

Admission to the school will be on a non-sectarian basis and children of all races and religions will be admitted.

A diagnostic clinic will be established as an important additional facility to the school if the campaign is successful. At such a clinic, retarded children would receive complete examination and diagnostic study so parents could be properly advised how to best train and care for their children. The clinic is to be professionally staffed.

Tremendous Need Cited

"The story of the tremendous need for schools for the retarded child," said Dr. Harding, "has never been told adequately. We hope that this drive will not only raise the necessary funds for the expansion of Our Lady of Mercy School, but will also prove a step in the general awakening of Ohioans to the immediate need of these youngsters."

Retardation is 10 times more common than crippling polio or cerebral palsy. On a national scale there are three times more retarded children than all other types of handicapped children combined. No family is immune.

Mentally retarded children are prevented by law from attending public school because of their low IQ, but are educable and trainable with special teachers and techniques.

The Acre of Mercy Foundation for Mentally Retarded Children was formed by business and religious leaders in the state this year to raise funds for the expansion of the school at Granville and to formulate plans for a similar building plan in the Cincinnati and Cleveland areas. Gov. Frank J. Lausche is honorary chairman of the state wide drive.

Clevelander Saved From Drowning by Pair of Small Boys

CLEVELAND (AP) —Two small boys, using an inflated innertube for a rescue craft, saved a man from drowning yesterday in Lake Erie.

The man had been fishing near the Municipal Light plant and jumped in the lake to cool off. He was caught up in a reverse stream created by a water intake tunnel at the plant.

Then, as he paddled furiously toward shore, the stream carried him farther and farther out into the lake.

The boys sighted him about 75 feet off shore and went to the rescue.

Tanker Upsets, Gasoline Burns

7,000 Gallons Go Up In Flames After Crash

CLEVELAND (AP) — A blowout overturned the rear trailer of a gasoline tank truck early today on a freeway overpass and a spark ignited 7,000 gallons of gasoline in a roaring blaze.

Driver Elmer Perry, 29, and his assistant, Harvey Hurd, 38, both of Twinsburg, leaped from the cab and ran to safety seconds before the flames shot forward from the gasoline spilled by the rear trailer. They were not hurt.

It took 35 firemen more than a half hour to bring the blaze under control. Flames leaping some 50 feet in the air attracted hundreds of spectators.

When the fire started the truck was on the East 49th St., Bridge over Willow Freeway. The Freeway was closed because chunks of concrete were dropping off the heated bridge.

Loss of the rig and gasoline, owned by the Sun Oil Co., was estimated by second assistant fire chief Ferdinand Boehmer at $10,000.

Military Leaders Altered Final Note From Hull

Japs Tricked Into War, Yoshida Says

TOKYO (AP)—Shigeru Yoshida says in his memoirs that some of Japan's leaders at the time of Pearl Harbor tampered with the text of a final U.S. note, thus persuading reluctant officials to agree to war.

"This was a fraud by the military and amounted to conspiracy," declares the 76-year-old diplomat and politician who guided Japan as prime minister through six postwar years.

He said the note from the late Secretary of State Cordell Hull just before the Pearl Harbor attack was marked "Not definitive."

His memoirs, now appearing in the big newspaper Asahi, said the main text was an honest presentation of the views of both sides. There was the added comment in the note that "this is a basis for negotiation" and part of the preamble emphasized "this is a tentative plan."

"Not only were all these words deleted," Yoshida said, "but the portion covering the Japanese stand was also deleted when the document was submitted to the Privy Council as 'the Hull note.' I was informed that only the American position was carried in a one-sided manner."

It was on the basis of this doctored note—accepted by Japan as a virtual U.S. ultimatum—that reluctant Japanese civilian leaders and some doubtful military chieftains finally agreed to war, Yoshida said.

Yoshida himself, with years of experience abroad as a diplomat in London, Rome and Washington, had many misgivings. He was arrested by the military later in the war when he joined a movement for a negotiated peace.

Yoshida got along well with Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who was running the Allied occupation. He praised the general for refusing to bow to Soviet demands that the Emperor be tried as a war criminal.

Enquirer Set To Pay Off $1 Million Indebtedness

Enquirer employes bought the publication from the John R. McLean estate in 1952 for $7,600,000.

Dean Martin, Jerry Lewis Split Over Premiere of Latest Movie

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Two years ago, Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis were the Damon and Pythias of show business.

Today they aren't talking to each other.

What brought about the change?

The answer goes far back into their histories. Jerry Lewis, born 29 years ago in Newark, N.J., was a child of show business. His folks were vaudevillians, and Jerry started performing as a lad. He was having so-so luck as a record act (making funny faces to a pop record) when he teamed up with a singer Dean Martin.

Born Dino Crocetti in Steubenville, Ohio, in 1917, Dean tried everything, from croupier to prizefighter. First as Dino Martini and then under his present name, he had mediocre success as a night club singer.

The two talents combined with magic results when both were playing the 500 Club in Atlantic City in July 1946. Within six years, they were the hottest attraction in night clubs, TV and movies. The boys were millionaires or well on their way.

Then, a couple of years ago, trouble started to develop in paradise.

It began with the picture, "Three Ring Circus." When Dean saw the script, he blew his top. He had only a sketchy role and disappeared for long periods.

Jerry sided with him and insisted that Dean's part be built up. A rewrite padded the role, but it still wasn't equal to Jerry's.

The big break came two months ago with the premiere of their latest picture. As often happens, the studio tried to save costs. It arranged to have a press junket to a hotel in the Catskills where Jerry had gotten his start as an entertainer. The hotel was to pick up much of the tab.

"Dean objected," reports a source close to the team. "He pointed out that he had no connection with the Catskills, had only been there a couple of times. He suggested that since the picture cost $2,300,000, the studio might put out $15,000 for a junket instead of trying to beat the price."

Dean said he never okayed the premiere. Jerry claimed he gave verbal consent in a conversation in Las Vegas.

The result: Dean went to Hawaii; Jerry went to the Catskills. They haven't spoken since.

New Law To Preserve Segregation in Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A bill designed to preserve segregation in public schools became the law in Alabama Tuesday night although Gov. James E. Folsom refused to sign it.

The new statute gives city and county school boards unprecedented police power in deciding which schools individual pupils shall attend.

The bill automatically became law when no gubernatorial veto was received before the Legislation recessed Tuesday.

The bill allows local school boards to assign pupils to various schools on a basis that will "assure social order, good will and the public welfare."
